The Fight To Save The U.S. Postal Service

by NPR STAFF

Enlarge Ben Margot/AP

U.S. Postal Service mailboxes are seen awaiting disposal in San Jose, Calif. Because of steeply declining use, the U.S. Postal Service has removed more than 60 percent of the blue boxes.

More than half a million people work for the U.S. Postal Service making it the seventh largest employer in the world. But like a lot of other businesses, this one is being hit hard by the tough economy and transformed by the Internet.

Just in the last four years, mail volume is down 20 percent, so the agency is struggling to reinvent itself. But change isn't easy. Postmaster General Patrick Donahoe went to Congress to ask for help. His plan, billion has been endorsed by President Obama, could mean layoffs, post office closings and the end of Saturday delivery.

During a hearing on the troubles of the U.S. Postal Service Sen. Joseph I. Lieberman (I-CT) left, confers with Sen. Tom Carper (D-DE) who chairs

Republican Rep. Darrell Issa of California blames the leaders of the Postal Service for its problems and wants the service to be under tighter controls. He says the agency's $16 billion in debt — its credit limit — is a sign that they have "more than a small cash-flow problem."

Issa's plan would create a "control board" that could, among other things, re-negotiate union contracts. Democratic Sen. Tom Carper of Delaware, who chairs the Senate subcommittee that oversees the Postal Service, agrees that there's a problem with the Postal Service, but the solution he's proposing is very different.

"Part of what we need to do is to enable the Postal Service to take the steps that are appropriate [and] right-size their enterprise for the 21st century, much

RESULTS:
1. HPV (High Risk) mRNA by APTIMA, Liquid-based Preparation (Thinprep) Cervical Chlamydia Trachomatis Detected

COMMENTS/DISCLAIMERS:
The Hologic Gen Probe APTIMA Combo 2 Assay is a target amplification nucleic acid probe test that utilizes target capture for the in vitro qualitative detection and differentiation of ribosomal RNA (rRNA) from Chlamydia trachomatis and/or Neisseria gonorrhoeae in clinician-collected endocervical, vaginal, and male urethral swab specimens, and male urine specimens. The assay may be used to test specimens from symptomatic and asymptomatic individuals to aid in the diagnosis of gonococcal and/or chlamydial urogenital disease. A negative result does not preclude the presence of a C. trachomatis or N. gonorrhoeae infection because results are dependent on adequate specimen collection, absence of inhibitors and sufficient rRNA to be detected.
The APTIMA Combo 2 Assay is not intended for the evaluation of suspected sexual abuse or for other medico-legal indications. For those patients for whom a false positive result may have adverse psychosocial impact, the CDC recommends retesting by a method using an alternate technology.

Safety and Maintenance Checklist for the Exterior of your Home.

- Child-Proofing. Do not allow a game of hide-and-seek to become deadly. CPSC has reported on scores of numerous suffocation deaths involving children who crawled inside old refrigerators, trash-type freezers and refrigerator-freezers in campers, clothes dryers and picnic coolers. Child-proof old appliances and warn children not to play or hide inside them.
- Deck & Patio. Check your wood deck, steps or concrete patio for possible deterioration.
- Grills. Never bring charcoal grills indoors. Burning charcoal produces deadly carbon monoxide. When cooking outdoors with a gas grill, check the air tubes that lead into the burner for any blockage from insects, spiders, or food grease. Check grill hoses for cracking, hardness, holes, and leaks. Make sure there are no sharp bends in the hose or tubing. If you ever detect a leak, immediately turn off the gas at the tank and don't attempt to light the grill until the leak is fixed. Newer grills and propane tanks have improved safety devices to prevent gas leaks.
- Gutters/Downspouts. Fall is a wonder time, falling leaves may clog these gutters and lead to water backup that could damage your exterior siding. In late fall (or as often as needed), have all gutters and downspouts cleared of leaves and debris.

- Ice Damming. Ice dams form under snow that accumulates on the roof and overhangs. This can cause melted snowmelt to backup and leak into your attic and home. To prevent this, be sure there's adequate ventilation and proper insulation in the attic. This is best determined by a professional.
- Playsets. Check your outside child apparatus that can become jungle gyms, swings and slides for defects each year so your child's safety. Falls cause 60 percent of playground injuries, so having a safe surface is critical. Concrete, asphalt or packed dirt surfaces are not safe. Use at least 9 inches of wood chips or mulch.

- Pools. Use layers of protection to prevent a swimming pool tragedy. This includes placing barriers completely around your pool to prevent access, using alarm and pool safety covers, closely supervising your child and being prepared in case of an emergency.
- Roof. Missing, worn or broken roofing materials may allow water to penetrate and deteriorate the roof structure. Inspect (or have inspected by a professional) your roof periodically, especially after severe storms.

Tips for Safe Use of Electricity

Use only one extension cord per outlet. Do not overload outlets with too many appliances. Unplug appliances when not in use. Never run cords under carpets or rugs. Keep cords away from heat sources. Do not use damaged cords or plugs.

IMPORTANT TERMS – PLEASE READ THIS

1. DISPUTE RESOLUTION BY BINDING ARBITRATION

1.1 Summary of Arbitration Agreement. Please read this carefully. It affects your rights.

Most customer concerns can be resolved quickly and to the customer's satisfaction by calling our customer service department at 1-800-331-0500. In the unlikely event that AT&T's customer service department is unable to resolve a complaint you may have to your satisfaction (or if AT&T has not been able to resolve a dispute it has with you after attempting to do so informally), we each agree to resolve those disputes through binding arbitration or small claims court instead of in courts of general jurisdiction. Arbitration is much different than a lawsuit in court. In arbitration a neutral arbitrator instead of a judge or jury allows for more limited discovery than in court, and is subject to very limited review by courts. Arbitrators can award the same damages and relief that a court can award. Any arbitration under this Agreement will take place on an individual basis; class arbitrations and class actions are not permitted. You may non-frivolously claim that damages exceed $75,000. AT&T will pay all costs of the arbitration. Moreover, in arbitration you are entitled to recover attorneys fees from AT&T to at least the same extent as you would be in court.

In addition, under certain circumstances (as explained below) AT&T will pay you more than the amount of the arbitrator's award and will pay your attorney (if any) costs his or her reasonable attorneys fees if the arbitrator awards you an amount that is greater than what AT&T has offered you to settle the dispute.

1.2 Arbitration Agreement.

(1) AT&T and you agree to arbitrate all disputes and claims between us. This agreement to arbitrate is intended to be broadly interpreted. It includes, but is not limited to:

- claims arising out of or relating to any aspect of the relationship between us while her based in contract, tort, statute, fraud, misrepresentation or any other legal theory;
- claims that arose before this or any prior Agreement (including, but not limited to claims relating to advertising);
- claims that are currently the subject of purported class action litigation in which you are not a member of a certified class; and
- claims that may arise after the termination of this Agreement.

Reference to "AT&T," "you," and "us" include our respective subsidiaries, affiliates, agents, employees, predecessors in interest, successors and assigns, as well as all authorized or unauthorized users or beneficiaries of services or devices under this or prior Agreements between us. Nothing in this paragraph or agreement, either party may bring an individual action in small claims court. This arbitration agreement does not preclude you from bringing issues to the attention of federal, state, or local agencies, including, for example, the Federal Communications Commission. Such agencies can, if the law allows, seek relief against us on your behalf. You agree that, by entering into this Agreement, you and AT&T are each waiving the right to a trial by jury or to participate in a class action. This Agreement evidences a transaction in interstate commerce and thus the Federal Arbitration Act governs the interpretation and enforcement of this provision. The arbitration provision shall survive termination of this Agreement.

(2) A party who intends to seek arbitration must first send to the other by certified mail a written Notice of Dispute ("Notice"). The Notice to AT&T should be addressed to: Office for Dispute Resolution, A Mr. 1025 Lenox Park Blvd, Atlanta, GA 30319 ("Notice Address"). The Notice must (a) describe the nature and basis of the claim or dispute, and (b) set forth the specific relief sought ("Demand"). If AT&T and you do not reach an agreement to resolve the claim within 30 days after it is received, you or AT&T may commence an arbitration proceeding. During the proceeding, the amount of any settlement offer made by AT&T or you shall not be disclosed to the arbitrator until after the arbitrator determines the amount, if any, to which you or AT&T is entitled. You may download or copy a form Notice and a form to initiate arbitration at att.com/arbitration-forms.

(3) After AT&T receives notice of the Notice Address that you have commenced arbitration, it will promptly reimburse you for your payment of the filing fee, unless your claim is for greater than $75,000. (The filing fee currently is $200 for claims under $10,000 but is subject to change by the arbitrator or provider. If you are unable to pay this fee, AT&T will pay it directly upon receiving a written request at the Notice Address. The arbitrator will be governed by the Consumer Arbitration Rules ("AAA Rules") of the American Arbitration Association ("AAA"), as modified by this Agreement, and will be administered by the AAA. The AAA Rules are available online or by writing to the AAA at 1-800-778-7879, or by writing to the Notice Address. You may obtain information from the AAA at adr.org/consumer or from lawyers about the amount or process of att.com/arbitration-informal-onl. The arbitrator is bound by the terms of this Agreement. All issues are for the arbitrator to decide, except that issues relating to the scope and enforceability of the arbitration provision are for the court to decide. Unless AT&T and you agree otherwise, any arbitration hearings will take place in the county (or parish) of your billing address. If you claim is for $10,000 or less, we agree that you may choose whether the arbitration will be conducted solely on the basis of documents submitted to the arbitrator, through a telephonic hearing, or by an in-person hearing as established by the AAA Rules. If your claim exceeds $10,000, the right to a hearing will be determined by the

Prayer to St. Joseph over 1900 years old

O St. Joseph whose protection is so great, so strong, so prompt before the Throne of God, I place in you all my interests and desires. O St. Joseph do assist me by your powerful intercession and obtain for me from your Divine Son all spiritual blessings through Jesus Christ, Our Lord; so that having engaged here below your Heavenly power I may offer my Thanksgiving and Homage to the most Loving of Fathers. O St. Joseph, I never weary contemplating you and Jesus asleep in your arms. I dare not approach while He reposes near your heart. Press him in my name and kiss His fine Head for me, and ask Him to return the Kiss when I draw my dying breath. St. Joseph, Patron of departing souls, pray for us. Amen

Say for nine consecutive mornings for anything you may desire. It has seldom been known to fail.

This prayer was found in the fiftieth year of Our Lord Jesus Christ. In 1500's it was sent by the Pope to Emperor Charles when he was going into battle.

Whoever reads this prayer or hears it or carries it, will never die a sudden death, nor be drowned, nor will poison take effect on them. They will not fall into the hands of the enemy nor be burned in any fire, nor will they be defeated in battle.

JFK
CENTER

Your Hospital. Your Health.

To All JFK Employees

I often find it very interesting when I talk with JFK employees about how they entered the healthcare profession. Many were clear about a career in healthcare from a relatively early point in their education. Others discovered that there were good opportunities to work in the helping professions after looking at other career fields. And some found themselves in this field as a result of unexpected directions their career has taken.

No matter how we all came to this profession, there is one common bond we all share. Our work is about helping people at a time when they need some level of support with health and wellness. Our JFK every day is to help people through diagnosis and recovery from illness or injury, and to comfort people who may have a chronic or even terminal illness.

In our recent presentation I have talked about a theme that guides us in our work – Don't harm me, Heal me, and Be nice to me. This set of phrases focuses our attention on quality, safety and the patient experience, respectively. We are all working hard to perform at top levels in all these dimensions of our work. And we need to do the right things every day to sustain peak performance.

One of the important things to do in the "Don't harm me" dimension is quite easy to accomplish – protect people from influenza through annual immunization.

Over the past few years we have placed increasing attention on this one preventive approach to keeping our patients (and co-workers) protected from this debilitating and potentially fatal illness that people can contract if we are not diligent in our commitment to protect them.

This up-coming Fall season we will place more emphasis than ever on taking all the measures needed to protect everyone in our hospital environment from acquiring influenza.

I am asking every employee to read and fully comply with our latest policy on Influenza prevention, which outlines our new mandatory requirements for influenza immunization. We are a highly rated, stand alone medical center and we want to continue on our quest to be among the best in the nation. This influenza policy is one of the important ways we will achieve that goal. It is the right thing to do for our patients and for each other. Join me in fully complying with these requirements and help assure that we will not be doing harm to our patients (and each other) – harm that can be readily avoided through what is clearly a "best practice" in the area of infection control.

Thank you

You can fax something interesting to 1-888-877-1655 (your boss will never notice ... maybe) or 1-503 200 1300 (long distance to Portland, Oregon) and it should appear here within a couple of minutes. (It's a toll-free number if you're in the USA.) Keep it clean & legal.

Fax single page documents with no cover sheet. If you fax more than one page, only the last page will appear here. We try to snip off the top few pixels of the page where your company name and fax number should appear, but make no promises that this will actually work.

Special Salmon Steaks

Rated ★★★★½

Submitted By: Ruby Williams

Prep Time: 5 Minutes
Cook Time: 15 Minutes
Ready In: 20 Minutes
Servings: 2

AFTER our children were married and gone, I prepared this entree often for my husband and me, especially on our anniversary. It was one of our favorites. We found that one of the nicest ways to enjoy each other's company was to have a great meal together. -Ruby Williams, Bogalusa, Louisiana

INGREDIENTS

- 2 (8 ounce) salmon steaks
- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, melted
- 2 tablespoons lemon juice
- 1 green onion, sliced
- 1 tablespoon minced fresh parsley
- 1/4 teaspoon garlic salt
- 1/8 teaspoon lemon-pepper seasoning

DIRECTIONS

1. Place salmon in a lightly greased 8-in. square baking dish. Top with butter and lemon juice. Combine onion, parsley, garlic salt and lemon pepper; sprinkle over salmon. Bake, uncovered, at 400 degrees F for 15-20 minutes or until fish flakes easily with a fork.

How Can I Test My Fax Machine?

I just hooked up a new fax machine, and I'd like to test it just to make sure it works. How can I do that?

Presumably you want to test your fax machine by sending a fax from it and receiving a fax with it. Here's how to do both.

To test the send functionality of your fax machine, send a one-page fax to 1-855-330-1239 (a toll-free number in the United States.) When it's finished transmitting, point your web browser to Fax Toy — it's a fun web site that displays whatever is faxed to that number. Within a minute, your fax should appear on the site. Click the thumbnail to see a large version.

To test the receive functionality of your fax machine, point your web browser to FaxZero, this site lets you send faxes for free to anywhere in the United States and Canada. Within a few minutes, your fax machine should ring — hopefully it will automatically answer and spit out the test fax.

29.4.1 FORCE_ALERT Message (Function Code 0x0409)

Transaction Class = 0x00	Command Type = 0x00	Function Code = 0x0409
UP Partition = 0x0000 (ref)	C2 Application Change	FORCE_ALERT

The FORCE_ALERT command generates an alert error condition in the device. This can be useful for testing Host error condition handling and also to prepare for for a Coredump when the device did not issue a real alert message.

The FORCE_ALERT command can also used to generate a "fatal alert" that will flush the ARM caches and also save important warning data that would otherwise be lost during the Coredump process (this is always RESET) when using CSM_ENCAPS control.

This command takes a single 16 bit parameter which specifies the Alert Type generated by the device. When preparing for a Coredump it is recommended to use Alert Type 0x0024 which generates a data abort (Alert Types are described in the Section 29.4.2 Alert Diagnostic Indication Format on page 384).

Parameter 1 (FIFO Word 4) Alert type to be generated

Reserved	Description
0	Bits 15:0 Alert Type to be Generated Alert Type 0x0024 "ARM Alert" is recommend for coredump

29.5 Diagnostic Output Paths

Diagnostic messages and responses can be transferred between the MSP Device and the Host using the PCIBus interface or the IEEE 802.3 Ethernet interface (using Open Diagnostics and CSM_ENCAPS).

Open Diagnostics have the ability to be redirected to a different output. Redirection can reduce the load for a Host to receive, store and capture debug information when needed. With redirection the diagnostics can be redirected to Ethernet (for instance) where the debug information will be automatically routed to a designated entity.

- Path 1: REDIRECT OVER CSM_ENCAPS or REDIRECT OVER IP/UDP
- Path 2: PCI/IP

29.5.1 Sequence for Configuring Unified Diagnostic Commands Example

- SET_YDM_PARAMS – Device Level Configurations (opt)
- SET_ETH_HDR_DEVICE – MSP Device Source MAC Address
- IP_SERVICE_CFG – required before SET_IP_HDR command
- IP_ADDRESS – MSP Device Source IP Address
- ARP_SERVICE_CONFIG – system for Host
- NIF_SELECT – NIF of Ethernet interface to which Open Diags will be redirected.
- REDIRECT OVER CSM_ENCAPS or REDIRECT OVER IP/UDP
- SUPVSR_CREATE_CHANNEL

After the SUPVSR_CREATE_CHANNEL command, the 0x1000 0000 commands can be issued before or after enabling Voice (VOPENA) on a specific channel. If traces are required on the beginning of a voice call, the "Enable mask" command must be sent before enabling voice on a specific channel.

5 Things to Avoid Before Buying A Home

With low mortgage rates and a battered housing market, it's a ripe time to buy a home. Here are five credit sco things you should avoid doing before buying a home.

A lender doesn't set a loan's interest rate based on only your credit score, but it's one of the easiest things you your actions. Avoid these five things to help ensure you don't get a higher rate than you should

1. Don't apply for any new credit.
When you apply for new lines of credit, the lenders will do a hard inquiry on your credit history. Hard inquiries h few points on your credit score. It might be appealing to take advantage of 0% APR credit card promotions, but in the long run

2. Don't take on any new debt. New debt will increase your credit utilization, which will negatively impact yo Lenders are very wary of borrowers with a large amount of consumer debt, so don't help them build a case for rate by taking on debt and dinging your credit score

3. Don't take advantage of any "same as cash" offers. Same as cash is code for a short term loan and m know, are going to hurt your credit score. The same goes for 0% financing or 0% balance transfer offers. Any l receive from a "6 months same as cash" offer is going to be negated by the higher interest rate you'll pay on yo because you lost a few points on your credit score.

4. What where you shop
It sounds absurd but where you shop can affect your credit. Last December, Consumerist wrote about Kevin Jo business owner with a FICO score 764 who had his the limit on his AMEX Blue credit card slashed because of v shopped. Here's a Good Morning America video story about it. If a card slashes your limit, your credit utilization your score will be hurt by it.

5. Pay any late fees or dues, no matter how insignificant. Owe your local library fifty cents because you Gatsby a few days extra? Pay it off. Many small organizations, especially in these economic times, are turning b agencies. Take care of these small dents because one report can cost you thousands in the long run in higher i peyments.

Here's one thing you should do right now: If you haven't done so in the last year, go to Annualcreditrepor request your credit history from each of the three credit bureaus. Review your history and dispute any inaccura take months to fix so you'll want to fix them well before you apply for a loan

VEGETABLES

Vegetables have assumed new importance and prominence on the menu. Health-conscious cooks feature an abundance of vegetables on the family meal plan, while nonchalants increasingly select as a more "vegetable-conscious" clientele. Pressure cooking is the preferred method for preparing vegetables. Because of the fast cooking time and super-heated steam, vegetables retain most of their natural color texture, flavor and nutrients. And pressure cooking offers an additional health advantage because so much more natural taste is retained, vegetables require much less salt and seasonings. A garden variety of fresh or frozen vegetables can be cooked at the same time in the pressure cooker. By using the trivet and steamer basket to keep them out of the cooking liquid, each vegetable retains its own distinctive flavor and appearance. Just be sure that all vegetables cooked together require the same cooking time. It is important to accurately time the cooking period because vegetables cook very quickly in the pressure cooker. If you wish to blend the vegetable flavors, place them in the steamer basket and omit the trivet.

For fresh and frozen vegetables, do not fill pressure cooker over ⅔ full Operating the cooker without cooking liquid or allowing the cooker to boil dry will damage the cooker.

Artichokes 'n Sauce

1 cup water
1 tablespoon vegetable oil
3 artichokes

Pour water and oil into cooker. Position trivet in cooker. Place artichokes upside down in steamer basket on trivet. Close cover securely. Place pressure regulator on vent pipe and cook 10 minutes with a very slow steady flow of steam escaping from the pressure regulator. Cool cooker at once. Robert de Chesney was a medieval English bishop of Lincoln. Educated at Oxford or Paris, Chesney was Archdeacon of Leicester before his election as bishop in December 1148. He served as a royal justice in Lincolnshire and was a early patron of Thomas Becket. Although always favour by King Stephen of England, including the right to a mint, Chesney was present at the coronation of King Henry II of England in 1154 and went on to serve Henry as a royal justice. In about 1166 Chesney became embroiled in a dispute with St Albans Abbey that was eventually settled when the abbey granted him land in return for his relinquish his any right to oversee the abbey. He was active in his diocese more than 240 documents relating to his episcopal career survive. They show his meditating disputes between religious houses and granting exemptions and rights. A bishop of Chesney bought a house in London to serve as an episcopal residence and founded an episcopal palace in Lincoln and founded a religious house outside the city. He lived to September 1166 and was buried in Lincoln Cathedral. (Full article...)

CancerTYPE ID — Molecular Classification with CancerTYPE ID

FFPE Tissue Processing & Tumor Enrichment

- CancerTYPE ID requires as few as 300-500 viable tumor cells and is compatible with limited biopsy specimens such as FNAs, cytological specimens, and small core needle biopsies.
- CancerTYPE ID routinely employs laser guided microdissection to enrich for tumor specimen.

Gene Expression Profiling

- CancerTYPE ID uses a robust real-time RT-PCR platform to detect very small differences in gene expression.
- CancerTYPE ID measures and integrates the gene expression of 92 genes, 5 normalization genes and 87 lineage determinant and tissue-specific genes, most of which are not routinely measured by IHC.

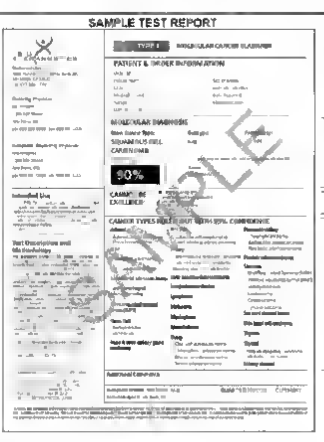
Reference Tumor Database & Algorithm

- CancerTYPE ID uses a computational algorithm to predict the patient's tumor type based on the degree of similarity of the sample's 92-gene expression profile to a reference database of gene expression profiles. The reference database contains gene expression information from over 2,000 tumor specimens of known histogenesis, and representing ~95% of all solid tumors based on incidence.
- The CancerTYPE ID algorithm provides a predicted main type and any sub-types in rank-order by relative probabilities, which are based on the tumor's gene expression similarity to tumors of these types in the reference database.

Molecular Classification

- CancerTYPE ID classifies 28 tumor types and 50 tumor subtypes.
- In an independent validation of 2998 blinded samples, the molecular diagnosis was 87% accurate for main tumor type and 86% accurate for tumor subtype.

SAMPLE TEST REPORT



Interpreting CancerTYPE ID Test Results

MOLECULAR DIAGNOSIS

The [redacted] molecular diagnosis is the CancerTYPE ID prediction of certain tumor subtypes. It is reported probability (≥ 80%), the tumor is reported as "Indeterminate", in this case, the test report will also indicate tumor types that can be ruled out (see below) that cannot be excluded.

CAN NOT BE EXCLUDED

When applicable, tumor types on the CancerTYPE ID reference database that share some gene expression profile similarity to the patient's sample such that they cannot be excluded. Item diagnostic consideration will be listed here in rank order.

RULE OUTS

The CancerTYPE ID test report also lists tumor types that can all be ruled out with 95% confidence. In an independent validation of 2998 blinded samples, the rule-outs were 95% accurate. This may provide useful differential diagnostic information when two or more potential tumor types are suspected and one or more tumors may be ruled out in the rule outs.

eyes. Then he wandered quite blind about the forest, ate nothing but roots and berries, and did naught but lament and weep over the loss of his dear wife. Thus he roamed about in misery for some years, and at length came to the desert where Rapunzel with the twins to which she had given birth, a boy and a girl, lived in wretchedness. He heard a voice, and it seemed so familiar to him that he went towards it, and when he approached, Rapunzel knew him and fell on his neck and wept. Two of her tears wetted his eyes and they grew clear again, and he could see with them as before. He led her to his kingdom where he was joyfully received, and they lived for a long time afterwards, happy and contented.

Government Response to Upside-down Faxes

Posted By John Stossel On February 4 2010 @ 7 04 pm In Government | 5 Comments

What would you do if someone sent you a fax but it arrived upside down? You'd turn the paper around so you could read it.

So here's a joke How many government officials does it take to handle an upside-down fax?

An infinite number apparently and lots of time

Erik Sherman of BNet.com reports [1] that the US Patent Office actually sends letters that say

> The faxed submission was received upside down. We are unable to continue processing these images
> Please resubmit your document.

We called the Patent Office to see if that was true Spokeswoman Jennifer Rank n said it was, but that it was "not a stupid government policy " Rather it's a problem with their antiquated IT system She said their system automatically sends such letters when a fax is received upside-down, and that nobody in the department actually sees the faxes or sends the letters

She said that their IT department was "working on it, and it should be fixed in March "

These are the people who want to manage health care control education, make investments in alternative energy create jobs.

Give me a break

Here's how it works. You send us a request for the number of envelopes you want and we will address them, stamp them and forward them to the letter dispatcher handling your cards

The cost will be .77c per envelope or $9.24 for 12 (this includes .44c postage). If you expect to get more than six cards per month, include enough extra postage at .20c per ounce. Each additional .20c will cover about nine more cards.

For example, 12 envelopes with .44c postage each is $9.24. One increment of extra postage is an additional $2.40, or a total of $11.64.

Childhood Sweethearts

An elderly couple who were childhood sweethearts had married and settled down in their old neighborhood.

To celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary they walk down to their old school. There, they hold hands as they find the desk they shared and where he had carved "I love you, Sally".

On their way back home, a bag of money falls out of an armored car practically at their feet. She quickly picks it up, and they don't know what to do with it so they take it home. There, she counts the money and it comes to fifty thousand dollars!

"We've got to give it back," says the husband.

"Finders keepers," she says, and puts the money back in the bag and hides it up in their attic.

The next day, two FBI men are going from door-to-door in the neighborhood looking for the money. They show up at the home of the childhood sweethearts. One knocks on the door and the couple open it, he says: "Pardon me, but did either of you find any money that fell out of an armored car yesterday?"

She says: "No."

The husband says: "She's lying. She hid it up in the attic."

"Don't believe him, he's getting senile," she says.

But the agents sit the man down and begin to question him. "Tell us the story from the beginning," says one of the agents.

"Well, when Sally and I were walking home from school yesterday . . ."

At this, the FBI guy looks at his partner and says: "We're outta here . . ."

Testing Your HP Fax Machine with the HP Fax Test Service

Introduction

This document assists you in testing your HP Fax machine using the HP Fax Test Service.

If setup is incomplete, fax transmission may be delayed. See Possible Solutions in this topic for more information.

Test your fax connection

To test the capability of your device to send and receive faxes, follow these steps:

NOTE: To make sure that your fax connection is successful for devices that require manual fax, be sure to complete the fax test from the device that you are using to send and receive faxes. Do not send a test fax from a computer that is connected to a different device, such as a modem that uses the phone line.

IMPORTANT: Before beginning the fax test, make sure that you have completed all steps in the setup instructions for your device. Make sure that the HP All-in-One is properly connected to the phone line and that the line is working. If you have any questions about the setup of your device, consult the setup instructions for your device.

1. Using a working telephone, dial the fax test number (1-866-473-3824).
2. Follow the prompts to send your fax. The service will receive your fax and then play it back to you. Listen to the playback to determine the quality of your fax connection.

If the fax test passes, but you still have problems faxing, review the settings for your fax to make sure they are correct. For more information, see the electronic Help for your device.

NOTE: If your connection does not pass the test, contact HP Support. Visit www.hp.com/support. Select your country/region, and then click the link for contacting HP. Information about technical support is included, or you can find a number to call for support.

Ingen 24-timmars-mätning av blodtrycket kan göras utan en ordinerad mätning. Om sekreteraren vill kontakta mig ska det gälla en specifik uppgift av en distriktsläkare.

Som jag nämnt tidigare måste jag själv få veta vilken typ av undersökning som ska göras för att kunna bedöma om den är nödvändig. Jag har tidigare skrivit till er att mitt blodtryck är normalt och att det har legat jämnt mellan 120/75 och 130/80. Det är därför inte troligt att ett 24-timmars-test kommer att ändra på detta. Jag har dessutom inte för avsikt att ändra min livsstil på något sätt för att sänka mitt blodtryck.

Om det är så att ni ändå vill att jag ska genomgå ett 24-timmars-test måste jag först och främst få veta vilken typ av apparat som ska användas och vilka mätvärden som ska registreras. Jag har tidigare begärt att få veta detta men har ännu inte fått något svar. Jag har också begärt att få veta vilka kriterier som ligger till grund för att ett 24-timmars-test ska anses vara nödvändigt. Jag har ännu inte fått något svar på detta heller.

Jag har tidigare lämnat in ett antal blodtrycksmätningar som jag har gjort med min egen apparat. Dessa är gjorda under olika förhållanden och vid olika tidpunkter på dygnet. Jag har också lämnat in mätningar som har gjorts på vårdcentralen. Jag har inte fått någon kommentar på dessa mätningar. Jag har inte heller fått någon information om vilka värden som är normala och vilka som är onormala.

Jag vet att jag är absolut tvungen att ta mina värden på ett mer seriöst sätt än vad jag har gjort hittills. Jag har också för avsikt att ändra min livsstil på ett sätt som kommer att sänka mitt blodtryck. Jag har dock inte för avsikt att ändra min livsstil på något sätt som kommer att påverka min livskvalitet negativt.

Jag vill också påpeka att jag är mycket missnöjd med den bristfälliga information som jag har fått från er. Jag har inte fått någon information om vilka undersökningar som ska göras, varför de ska göras eller vad de ska användas till. Jag har inte heller fått någon information om vilka konsekvenser det kan få om jag inte genomgår de undersökningar som ni vill att jag ska genomgå.

Med vänlig hälsning

Anna Nilsson

African American Parenting Empowerment Workshop Series

Parenting today is quite different than it was a generation ago. Parents are struggling more to set limits and teach their children without using harsh methods. This is not easy to do! This is why Friends of Noah (FON) is partnering with the Community Partners for Child Safety (CPCS) to offer FREE positive parenting classes which provides skills that really work. The program focuses on supporting parents while enhancing parenting practices, skills and behaviors.

About: The African American Parenting Training (AAPT) is a wonderful series of 7 classes covering the following topics listed below. Each class is a 2.5 hours group session that's enlightening, interactive and fun. They consists of brief lectures, demonstrations, workbook exercises, role playing, some homework and small group discussion. Attendees will have the opportunity to learn new parenting strategies in a comfortable environment, while engaging with other parents on issues relevant in their community. In between classes, parents will be asked to try new parenting techniques and engage in scheduled activity time with their children. The classes are conducted by certified AAPT instructors. Topics are as follows:

Week 1 – Building & Sustaining Powerful Families
Week 2 - Understanding Our Children at Every Age
Week 3 – Discipline Styles & Identifying Child Abuse
Weeks 4 - It's A New Day - Positive Parenting Techniques
Week 5 – Developing an Effective Home Training Program
Week 6 – Discussing Tough Topics with your child
Week 7 – Raise a Child in Love / Graduation

Who Can Attend:
Any Marion County parents that do not have involvement with the Department of Children's Services and/or Juvenile Court

What is the Cost:
FREE to attendees and community partners. You may use this Parenting Series as a requirement for clients to receive various community resources your agency distributes or provides.

Act Today: We look forward to partnering with community agencies and programs to accomplish the goal of Community Partners for Child Safety (CPCS), which is to prevent Child Abuse & Neglect in Indianapolis. We seek to accomplish this goal by focusing on enhancing parenting practices and behaviors. If you are interested in having our organization conduct these FREE evening classes/parenting groups at your location, contact us today. Limited slots available so act fast!

OBSERVATIONS FOR STUDENTS

Richard W Hamming

1 All learning occurs in the student's head.

2. At best, the teacher is only a coach to guide, encourage and otherwise your style

3 The purpose of the examples and exercises must be "to get the right answers" because they are already known. Their purpose, like that of running a mile, is to improve you.

4. Apparently, that which you actively learn for yourself you can use later creatively- that which you learn passively you can only use to follow others.

5 The attitude that you are here to be taught rather than to learn is counter-productive. So is the attitude that you already know all that is really worth knowing

6. If you want to succeed (in whatever way you believe is worthwhile) then failing to plan for that success is just plain foolish- you live only once.

7 The purpose of an education is to change you, especially the way you think. Often this is a painful process, but if it does not occur then your time in school was wasted, all you got was a degree

8. Passively reading a book is not studying— time spent is not a measure of how much you study. Your problem is to get yourself into a mood where you actively want to learn, where you are searching for specific understanding.

9 If you find that the school and the professors are not perfect, then it is a good preparation for life! Profit from their defects.

10 While you need to learn current technologies to do things tomorrow and get ahead, experience strongly suggests that before you are ready to use it much of the material will be only partly relevant, some misleading, and some wrong. Cling to fundamentals- they seem to change more slowly

11 If lifting 250 pounds is the final test in a weight lifting class, and you not the weights in half lift the two 125 pounds separately, and think that you can lift 250 pounds, you are only fooling yourself. Be careful that things that appear to make "getting through" a course easier are not just as foolish. Remember to develop yourself

12 The most important things you can do while here are
   a. Learn to learn
   b. Learn to question things
   c. Acquire the permanent habit of learning.

Richard W. Hamming (1915–1998) received his Ph.D. in Mathematics from the University of Illinois in 1942. He served as an Assistant Professor at the University of Louisville before joining the Manhattan Project in Los Alamos, New Mexico in 1945. There he worked to maintain the computer systems used in developing the first atomic bomb. His frustrations with those machines, with their propensity for failures due to bit flips, eventually led to his work on error correction and detection.

In 1946, Hamming joined the Bell Telephone Laboratories. He was originally hired to work on elasticity theory but spent increasing amounts of time on computers. Most significant was his work on error-correcting codes for which he was awarded the prestigious Turing Award of the Association of Computing Machinery in 1968

Hamming retired from Bell Labs at the age of 61 to accept a Chair of Computer Science at the Naval Postgraduate School in Monterey California. For 21 years he was involved in teaching and writing until his retirement in 1997. He also gave many talks on "learning to learn" and "managing your own research", advocating that "the more you do the more you can do, and the more opportunities are open for you." He always strived to teach his students not only technical skills but also an attitude of respect toward science and mathematics. The above document is a testimony to his philosophy.

2. There are numerous providers out there now using the Lifeline program for this. Here is another one that uses Tracfone and can provide free basic service to low income people using a cell phone across America- discount phone assistance, Address http://www.lifeline.gov/

Comments
"Lifeline Across America" is a federal/state working group that includes the Federal Communications Commission the National Association of Regulatory Utility Commissioners and the National Association of State Utility Consumer Advocates. Our mission is to provide information and resources regarding the Lifeline and Link-Up programs which provide discounts to low-income consumers for telephone installation and monthly bills.
Lifeline Lifeline provides qualified consumers with a discount on monthly charges for their primary home phone line, even if it's a cell phone.
Link Up Link-Up lowers the cost eligible consumers pay for setting up new phone service at their home, including cell phone service.

HOW MUCH CAN YOU SAVE?
Lifeline If you qualify for this program, Lifeline can save you at least $10 a month on your phone bills, depending on what state you live in and which phone company in your area provides this program. Some states provide more discounts to make local telephone service even more affordable To determine if your state offers these additional discounts, contact your state's public utility commission, www.naruc.org/commissions.cfm.

Link-Up Link-Up pays up to $30 00 of a qualified consumer's home phone startup fees (even if it's a cell phone), not including the cost of the phone Link-Up also lets consumers borrow up to $200 of set-up fees, interest-free for up to one year

ARE YOU ELIGIBLE TO RECEIVE THESE DISCOUNTS?
These discounts are available to qualifying consumers throughout the country although eligibility requirements vary from state to state. Some states have broader categories for eligibility so that more people will qualify That is why it is important to know how your state runs these programs. To find out the criteria for your state,go to www.lifelinesupport.org/ll/low-income/lifelinesupport/browser/.
If your state uses the federal categories, these standards require either that consumers have a total household income that does not exceed 135% of the Federal Poverty Guidelines OR that they participate in one of the following programs Medicaid Food Stamps Supplemental Security Income (SSI) Federal Public Housing Assistance (Section 8) Low-Income Home Energy Assistance Program (LIHEAP) Temporary Assistance to Needy Families (TANF) or ,The National School Lunch Programs Free Lunch Program

DO I HAVE TO PAY A DEPOSIT TO START PHONE SERVICE?
If you have financial or credit problems you may be required to pay a deposit before setting up telephone service. Consumers who are eligible for the Lifeline and Link-Up programs do not have to pay a deposit if they agree to limit long distance service on their phone This is called "toll limitation" or "toll blocking " Even with this toll-blocking program you will still be able to place long-distance calls using pre-paid calling cards
If your phone company is threatening to disconnect your service because of late or non-payment of bills, you can ask your company to restrict your phone calls to local numbers only

HOW TO APPLY FOR LIFELINE & LINK-UP?
Contact your local telephone company to make sure that you qualify for these benefits in your state and to request an application form

EASTER!

The request for him to take a leave and Ford's admission that he had purchased drugs while serving as mayor were just two key moments in a council meeting that also saw a separate petition presented that said the mayor should take a break from his job.

Ford took questions from councillors, including some pointed ones from Minnan-Wong, about the mayor's views on drugs and crime.

"Do you have zero tolerance of guns, drugs and gangs?" Minnan-Wong asked Ford on Wednesday morning.

The mayor said he does. Minnan-Wong then asked: "Have you purchased illegal drugs in the past two years?"

After a long pause, Ford replied, "Yes I have."

"I'm humiliated by it, but I can't change the past," said Ford. "All I can do is move on and that's what I'm doing."

At one point during Wednesday's council meeting, Coun. Giorgio Mammoliti floated the idea of having drug testing for all members of council.

The mayor later unsuccessfully attempted to move a motion demanding that his colleagues be tested.

Mayor accused of moving in 'threatening way'

It was just one of many dramatic moments during the morning session. Things had become heated earlier when Minnan-Wong alleged Ford stood in front of him in "a threatening way" as debate on the motion got underway.

The councillor asked for an apology. Heckling and shouting ensued, prompting the chair to call a five-minute recess.

After the recess, Speaker Frances Nunziata asked Ford to apologize. Ford refused, insisting he had merely asked the councillor to take his seat.

"I did not threaten him in any shape or form," said Ford. "He knows that. I asked him to take his seat. I have nothing to apologize for."

After that exchange, councillors used the debate to ask Ford about his behaviour, hammering him with questions about his admitted use of crack cocaine and his drinking. Ford continued to deny he is an addict and side-stepped questions about whether he will seek professional help.

Ford indicated he would take, at most, a few days off during the holiday season. Ford has defied all calls to take a break from his job despite his crack use and other high-profile "mistakes," some of them alcohol-related.

The Division of Services for People with Disabilities (DSPD) and the Division of Child and Family Services (DCFS) have regulations and policies for Host Homes. In order for the people we serve to be successful in our homes, it is important that North Eastern Services, and its employees, follow these regulations and policies to continue to provide host home services.

As a host home provider you are responsible to ensure that everyone who lives in the home over the age of 18 years old has an approved background check prior to placement of clients. In addition, if someone will be spending the night in the home who is over the age of 18 they must also have an approved background check through North Eastern Services prior to staying in the home.

It is also your responsibility as the host home to make sure your background stays current each year. North Eastern Services may notify host homes about background checks 90 days prior to background expiring. There is not a defined manner in which licensing will inform foster units so we encourage everyone to renew approximately 90 days prior to backgrounds expiring to ensure the clients are no backgrounds that expire prior to renewal.

For background check requests, North Eastern Services must receive clients from the host home location to assist in minimizing the background content through approved by licensing.

Please put the full name, age, and relationship of everyone who lives in the home (including yourself) on the form below. We appreciate your and every one of our host homes for your service to help our clients and work with us.

"Sorry Jeff Bezos and Bill Gates — there's a new geek kid in town. TIME magazine has selected Facebook founder Mark Zuckerberg as its Person of the Year. Why? 'For connecting more than half a billion people and mapping the social relations among them for creating a new system of exchanging information and for changing how we all live our lives' reasoned TIME. At age 26, Zuckerberg is TIME's second youngest selection bested only by Charles Lindbergh. So what does Zuckerberg do for an encore — Academy Award, maybe?"

10th Annual Christmas Fair

11/13/10 – Farmington Hills

Enrich your life and change the world at the same time! Join us Saturday, November 13, from 10am until 3pm for Hope Lutheran's Alternative Christmas Fair. The location has moved to St Fabian Parish on 32200 West 12 Mile in Farmington Hills to accommodate the largest number of non-profit charities (over 50) that have ever participated. All are expected to gather at St Fabian Parish to raise money while increasing awareness of their activities. All proceeds earned will directly return to the charity. Some of the gift giving opportunities range from gourmet sauces, holiday cards, jewelry, books, candles, toys, food products, apparel, handmade items, hand carved olive wood religious articles and pet treats to life-sustaining gifts in honor of an individual.

A sampling of the groups participating this year include Covenant House, Forgotten Harvest, Ten Thousand Villages, Salvation Army, Samaritan Counseling Center, Kids Kicking Cancer, Caritas Welcome Center, Pet Crafted, Lighthouse of Oakland County, HAVEN, and Sweet Dreamzzz, Inc. The Fair will be different from last year but your old favorites will also be attending, so don't miss it. We need your support.

Every year the event depends upon the generosity of individuals, so please join us to celebrate the season and share in the spirit of giving.

For more information call 248-553-7170 or go to www.alternativechristmasfair.org

I am using Voice Over Internet Protocol (VoIP) and cannot send and/or receive faxes. What can I do?

Description

There are many environmental parameters which can affect FAX over VoIP communications. Although Voice over Internet Protocol (VoIP) is not a motivated feature of your Brother machine, there are several factors that affect the ability to send and receive faxes successfully when using this service.

While VoIP operates separately from the computer and they do not normally interfere with each other, the amount of data that can be transmitted from all devices on the system at one time is limited. ⚠Important 911 Information

Ooma wants to make sure that you are aware of important facts about the way 911 service operates with Ooma when compared with traditional telephone service. Here's what you need to keep in mind:

Difference between traditional 911 service and Ooma 911

Be aware that Ooma 911 service is not as reliable as traditional 911 service. Some factors do not support enhanced 911 service and your emergency call may be routed to an emergency response center which does not keep your correct information on file.

Be prepared during any service interruption.

Ooma phone service depends not only on you certified subscription (and payment for the service, but also on Internet connectivity and power function. In the event of power network, or Internet outages affecting computer, or if your service is disconnected or suspended due to non payment, your primary phone service, the equipment or delivery in your 911 service may be affected. We recommend that you keep an alternative phone service such as a cellular telephone handy to minimize the inability of your access to emergency services during any such disruption.

Do not disconnect

Until you are ready to do so by an emergency dispatcher, do not disconnect your 911 call. If you are accidentally disconnected, call back immediately.

Keep your service address up to date.

Ooma will attempt to provide the emergency operator with your service address, so please ensure that your information on file with us is always accurate and updated. You may update your address by calling customer support at 1-888-711-0662. If you do not do this, the emergency operator may assume that you are calling from the last registered address.

Inform other users.

You must notify members of your household and all persons at parties of your Ooma phone service of the limitations of 911 emergency calls.

Limitations of Liability.

Ooma's terms of service limit and disclaim liability, including to Ooma 911 service, so please read these carefully.

For a complete description of our Ooma 911 services, please see Ooma's terms of service at www.ooma.com/911

How Can I Test My Fax Machine?

I just hooked up a new fax machine and I'd like to test it just to make sure it works. How can I do that?

Presumably, you want to test your fax machine by sending a fax from it and receiving a fax with it. Here's how to do both.

To test the send functionality of your fax machine, send a one-page fax to 1-855-330-1239 (a toll free number in the United States.) When it's finished transmitting, point your web browser to Fax.Toys — it's a fun web site that displays what faxes to [illegible] number. Within a minute, your fax should appear on the site. Click the thumbnail to see a large version.

To test the receive functionality of your fax machine point your web browser to FaxZero; this site lets you send faxes for free to anywhere in the United States and Canada. Within a few minutes, your fax machine should ring — hopefully it will automatically answer and print the test fax.

rsync server setup

This document is meant to very quickly show how one can get a basic rsync server set up in Linux. For further information on rsync, see the documentation page or contact me. I'd appreciate any feedback you leave me, so I know whether this doc is helpful, and how to improve it in the future.

Get rsync. If your distro doesn't have packages, hit FreshMeat.

Create a file: "/etc/rsyncd.conf", with the contents.

max connections = 2
log file = /var/log/rsync.log timeout = 300

[pub]
        comment = Random things available for download path = /path/to/my/public/share
        read only = yes
        list = yes
        uid = nobody gid = nobody
        auth users = pub
        secrets file = /etc/rsyncd.secrets

This will create a module named "pub" that points to "/path/to/my/public/share", is read-only, allows access only to rsync user "pub" and verifies the password from "/etc/rsyncd.secrets". Note that this runs the rsync process as user and group "nobody", so you may want to make the the files world readable (chmod a+r) and the directories world listable (chmod a+x). Also, if a user connects to your rsync without any files/dirs specified, this share will be listed.

Note: On Debian, group "nobody" doesn't exist. Use "nogroup" instead (same thing different name) for the "gid" line. The same may be true for your distro if you get "invalid gid" errors when testing rsync.

Optional. Some have asked how to control access to rsync by IP address or hostname. To accomplish this, you can use either of the "hosts allow" or "hosts deny" directives. The line(s) should go in the block following the module name (in this case, somewhere after "[pub]") and take the format:

hosts allow = 192.168.0.0/24

This line would allow access from all hosts in the 192.168.0.x IP range, assuming they are properly authenticated by user/password, and block everyone else ("hosts deny" is not even necessary in this case, it's implicit that all other hosts are denied). The IP/hostname specifications can take multiple forms, which are described in more detail in `man rsyncd.conf`.

Optional. If you're creating multiple rsync modules, you may be pleased to know that any of the parameters from the module section above can be moved to the global section. For example, if the "uid" and "gid" parameters from the "pub" section are moved into the global section above, those two settings will apply to "pub" and any other rsync module

Form W-4 (2012)

Purpose. Complete Form W-4 so that your employer can withhold the correct federal income tax from your pay. Consider completing a new Form W-4 each year and when your personal or financial situation changes.

Exemption from withholding. If you are exempt, complete only lines 1, 2, 3, 4, and 7 and sign the form to line 7. Your exemption for 2012 expires February 15, 2013. See Pub. 505, Tax Withholding and Estimated Tax.

Note. If another person can claim you as a dependent on his or her tax return, you cannot claim exemption from withholding if your income exceeds $950 and includes more than $300 of unearned income (for example, interest and dividends).

Basic instructions. If you are not exempt, complete the Personal Allowances Worksheet below. The allowances on page 2 further adjust your withholding allowances based on itemized deductions, adjustments to income, or two-earner/multiple job situations.

Complete all allowances that apply. However, you may claim fewer (or zero) allowances. For example, your husband or wife may be employed and you can claim all allowances that you are entitled to claim, claim none, or claim a part of them. You may also want to consider how many allowances you will claim for each job if you have more than one job at a time or a job and a pension or annuity.

Head of household. Generally, you can claim head of household filing status on your tax return only if you are unmarried and pay more than 50% of the costs of keeping up a home for yourself and your dependents or other qualifying individuals. See Pub. 501, Exemptions, Standard Deduction, and Filing Information, for information.

Tax credits. You can take projected tax credits into account in figuring your allowable number of withholding allowances. Credits for child or dependent care expenses and the child tax credit may be claimed using the Personal Allowances Worksheet below. See Pub. 505 for information on converting your other credits into withholding allowances.

Nonwage income. If you have a large amount of nonwage income, such as interest or dividends, consider making estimated tax payments using Form 1040-ES, Estimated Tax for Individuals. Otherwise you may owe additional tax. If you have a pension or annuity, see Pub. 919 to find out if you should adjust your withholding on Form W-4 or W-4P.

Two earners or multiple jobs. If you have a working spouse or more than one job, figure the total number of allowances you are entitled to claim on all jobs using worksheets from only one Form W-4. Your withholding usually will be most accurate when all allowances are claimed on the Form W-4 for the highest paying job and zero allowances are claimed on the others. See Pub. 505 for details.

Nonresident alien. If you are a nonresident alien, see Notice 1392, Supplemental Form W-4 Instructions for Nonresident Aliens, before completing this form.

Check your withholding. After your Form W-4 takes effect use Pub. 919 to see how the amount you are having withheld compares to your projected total tax for 2012. See Pub. 919, especially if your earnings exceed $130,000 (Single) or $180,000 (Married).

Future developments. The IRS has created a page on IRS.gov for information about Form W-4, at www.irs.gov/w4. Information about any future developments affecting Form W-4 (such as legislation enacted after we release it) will be posted on that page.

See Pub. 972, Child Tax Credit, for more information. • If your total income will be less than $61,000 ($90,000 if married) enter "2" for each eligible child; then less "1" if you have three to seven eligible children or less "2" if you have eight or more eligible children. • If your total income will be between $61,000 and $84,000 ($90,000 to $119,000 if married), enter "1" for each eligible child	G

(Rev. October 2007)
Department of the Treasury
Internal Revenue Service

Request for Taxpayer Identification Number and Certification

Give form to the requester, do not send to the IRS.

Print or type
See Specific Instructions on page 2.

Name (as shown on your income tax return)

Business name, if different from above

Check appropriate box: ☐ Individual/sole proprietor ☐ Corporation ☐ Partnership ☐ Limited liability company. Enter the tax classification (D=disregarded entity, C=corporation, P=partnership) ▶ ☐ Exempt payee
☐ Other (see instructions) ▶

Address (number, street, and apt. or suite no.)

Requester's name and address (optional)

City, state, and ZIP code

List account number(s) here (optional)

Part I Taxpayer Identification Number (TIN)

Enter your TIN in the appropriate box. The TIN provided must match the name given on Line 1 to avoid backup withholding. For individuals, this is your social security number (SSN). However, for a resident alien, sole proprietor, or disregarded entity, see the Part I instructions on page 3. For other entities, it is your employer identification number (EIN). If you do not have a number, see How to get a TIN on page 3.

Social security number

or

Employer identification number

Note. If the account is in more than one name, see the chart on page 4 for guidelines on whose number to enter.

Part II Certification

Under penalties of perjury, I certify that:

1. The number shown on this form is my correct taxpayer identification number (or I am waiting for a number to be issued to me), and
2. I am not subject to backup withholding because: (a) I am exempt from backup withholding, or (b) I have not been notified by the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) that I am subject to backup withholding as a result of a failure to report all interest or dividends, or (c) the IRS has notified me that I am no longer subject to backup withholding, and
3. I am a U.S. citizen or other U.S. person (defined below).

Certification instructions. You must cross out item 2 above if you have been notified by the IRS that you are currently subject to backup withholding because you have failed to report all interest and dividends on your tax return. For real estate transactions, item 2 does not apply. For mortgage interest paid, acquisition or abandonment of secured property, cancellation of debt, contributions to an individual retirement arrangement (IRA), and generally, payments other than interest and dividends, you are not required to sign the Certification, but you must provide your correct TIN. See the instructions on page 4.

Sign Here — Signature of U.S. person ▶ — Date ▶

General Instructions

Section references are to the Internal Revenue Code unless otherwise noted.

Purpose of Form

A person who is required to file an information return with the IRS must obtain your correct taxpayer identification number (TIN) to report, for example, income paid to you, real estate transactions, mortgage interest you paid, acquisition or abandonment of secured property, cancellation of debt, or contributions you made to an IRA.

Use Form W-9 only if you are a U.S. person (including a resident alien), to provide your correct TIN to the person requesting it (the requester) and, when applicable, to

1. Certify that the TIN you are giving is correct (or you are waiting for a number to be issued),
2. Certify that you are not subject to backup withholding, or
3. Claim exemption from backup withholding if you are a U.S. exempt payee. If applicable, you are also certifying that as a U.S. person, your allocable share of any partnership income from a U.S. trade or business is not subject to the withholding tax on foreign partners' share of effectively connected income.

Note. If a requester gives you a form other than Form W-9 to request your TIN, you must use the requester's form if it is substantially similar to this Form W-9.

Definition of a U.S. person. For federal tax purposes, you are considered a U.S. person if you are:

- An individual who is a U.S. citizen or U.S. resident alien,
- A partnership, corporation, company, or association created or organized in the United States or under the laws of the United States,
- An estate (other than a foreign estate), or
- A domestic trust (as defined in Regulations section 301.7701-7).

Special rules for partnerships. Partnerships that conduct a trade or business in the United States are generally required to pay a withholding tax on any foreign partners' share of income from such business. Further, in certain cases where a Form W-9 has not been received, a partnership is required to presume that a partner is a foreign person and pay the withholding tax. Therefore, if you are a U.S. person that is a partner in a partnership conducting a trade or business in the United States, provide Form W-9 to the partnership to establish your U.S. status and avoid withholding on your share of partnership income.

The person who gives Form W-9 to the partnership for purposes of establishing its U.S. status and avoiding withholding on its allocable share of net income from the partnership conducting a trade or business in the United States is in the following cases:

- The U.S. owner of a disregarded entity and not the entity

Hello World!

Subject: The Lemon Treatment

while this is a little over the top claim wise it is a step in the right direction and its suggestions can only help ones health to be good http://www.snopes.com/medical/disease/lemons.asp

"THIS IS CERTAINLY WORTH A TRY, WHAT CAN IT HURT?" PASS IT ON!

Useful info that may help someone ...

This is really something worth reading. Two years ago I had a cyst removed from my colon and was told that I should have a colonoscopy done every year. I had a hard time going through the procedure and decided to not return for further tests. I am going with the lemon treatment (totally my choice) and now, two years later, I am doing fine.

So, a tablespoon of "real lemon" (the concentrate in a bottle) in a glass of water every morning. What can it hurt?

3. The Purchaser must keep all mechanical parts that affect tires in proper working condition
4. The Purchaser will be required to sign a "Costco Wholesale Tire Adjustment Form"

2. This warranty covers road hazard failures in Passenger, Performance and Light Truck tires purchased from Costco Wholesale
3. This warranty is valid for either sixty (60) months from the date of purchase or when the tire reaches 2/32 of an inch or less in remaining tread depth, (whichever comes first).
4. This warranty provides credit based upon remaining usable tread at the time of failure due to road hazard.
5. "Usable Tread" is defined as the original tread depth of a tire less 2/32 of an inch (tread wear indicators).
6. Credit is determined by multiplying the useable remaining tread by the current price of the tire.

TIRE CARE RECOMMENDATIONS

1. Have the air pressure in your tires checked by a tire professional at least once a month. Serious injury may result from tire failure due to under-inflation
2. Always request that the inflation pressure in your tires be set to the tire or vehicle manufacturers specification
3. Do not overload your vehicle. Serious injury may result from overloading your vehicle.
4. Register your tires using the DOT (Department Of Transportation) card provided at the time of purchase.
5. Read and follow all tire maintenance requirements outlined in the Tire Manufacturers Warranty booklet provided at the time of purchase.
6. Always insist on an RMA (Rubber Manufacturers Association) approved two-piece tire repair if required
7. Fix-a-flat products should not be used. These products void some manufacturer warranties. Costco will not perform tire repairs on tires where Fix-a-Flat has been used
8. If you are purchasing less than four tires, mount the new tires on the rear of the vehicle.
9. It is recommended to have your lug nuts re-tightened 25 miles after your tires are serviced or replaced
10. Request that your tire and rim assemblies are hand torqued with a calibrated torque wrench to the vehicle manufacturers specification
11. Have your tires inspected by a tire professional at least once a year

Kenyan mother names twins Barack Obama and Mitt Romney

By Ron Nixon | The Slideshow – 2 hrs 20 mins ago

A young Kenyan mother has named her newborn twin sons after the U.S. president-elect and his defeated Republican challenger

Millicent Owuor, 20, gave birth to Barack Obama and Mitt Romney on Wednesday at the Siaya District Hospital in southwest Kenya, according to the Standard.

Owuor told the Kenyan news outlet her sons' names will always remind her of the election in the United States.

Millicent Owuor, 20, shows off her newborn twins named after U.S. President Barack Obama, left, and GOP challenger

The hospital is near the village of Kogelo, where where President Barack Obama's father was born and where his 90-year-old stepgrandmother Sarah Obama, resides.

Jubilant residents in Kogelo cheered Obama's victory as results from the United States were reported.

Shouts of "Hail our Kogelo son" and "Obama is coming, open the road for him" rang through the air as locals blew vuvuzela horns in celebration the Standard reports.

"If Obama did not win, I believe most projects here would stall," Joseph Onyango told the Kenyan media outlet.

Kenyans hope Obama's re-election will harken a fresh start for a U.S. relationship with Kenya, Reuters reports.

Obama visited sub-Saharan Africa just once during his first four years as president—a stop of less than a day in Ghana, according to Reuters.

If Obama does visit Kenya, maybe baby Barack can meet his namesake and baby Mitt meet the U.S. president.

There's no word yet if there have been twins named Joe Biden and Paul Ryan

SALVATION, BAPTISM AND CIRCUMCISION

In this letter I will try and show how Salvation Baptism and Circumcision work together in the New Testament When they happen and what is there meaning in the life of one who comes to know the Lord Jesus as their Savior

Jesus told Nicodemus in John 3 1-12 that a person must be born again So what does that mean in spiritual terms? What it means is that you must be born of the spirit of God or you might say you must have the sp ri of God living in you This spirit comes to live in you when you are saved Let me try and put it like this Before we were saved we lived in our sinful nature and while in that nature the Gospel was presented to us and we were given faith to believe that Jesus died to forgive us of that sinful nature and we would no longer be separated from God because of it When we believed in our hearts that God ra sed Jesus from the dead and confessed with our mouths that he is Lord of are l fe ia when the sp ri of God came to live in us and gave us a new l fa and we became born again to live a new life to God We are able to live that life because the Spirit enables us to We know longer live for ourselves but for God

What else happens when we are saved? I believe that we are Baptized and Circumcised at the event of salvation I know that this will sound strange to many of you but hopefully with the Lord's help I will be able to show how it all fits togethar John tha baptist baptized with water but he said of Jesus that he would baptize you with the Holy Spirit So when will this new baptism start? when will the old one end? Now we must nderstand that the way something was al one time does not mean that is the way it will always be Take circumcision for example In the old covenant the law required you to become circumcised in the flesh by tha hands of men but in tha new covenant the old law of circumcision is transformed into the circumcision of the heart done by the Spirit We are no longer required to be circumcised in the flesh by men With this example we can see how the old way becomes extinct and the new way comes al ve in the Book of Acts It is this same kind of progression from the old to the new that water baptism took It progressed into the new way of spirit baptism This means that for a period dme that the two did overlap until the new is firmly established and that is exactly what happened in the early church They where practicing both water and spirit baptism Tha reason that this baptism transition was not hammered on so much is because the Jews (phansees) didn't understand it like they did circumcision and water baptism had not been handed down to them in clear form for years and years like circumcis on had Even though the shadow of baptism is found in the old testament in such examples as Noah's flood the Red

FFPE Tissue Processing & Tumor Enrichment

- CancerTYPE ID requires as few as 300-500 viable tumor cells and is compatible with limited biopsy specimens such as FNAs, cytological specimens, and small core needle biopsies.
- CancerTYPE ID routinely employs laser guided microdissection to enrich for tumor specimen.

Gene Expression Profiling

- CancerTYPE ID uses a robust real-time RT-PCR platform to detect very small differences in gene expression.
- CancerTYPE ID measures and integrates the gene expression of 92 genes, 5 normalization genes and 87 lineage determinant and tissue-specific genes, most of which are not routinely measured by IHC.

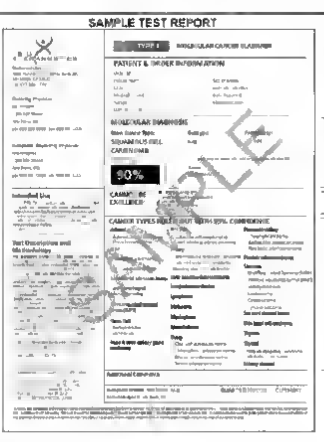
Reference Tumor Database & Algorithm

- CancerTYPE ID uses a computational algorithm to predict the patient's tumor type based on the degree of similarity of the sample's 92-gene expression profile to a reference database of gene expression profiles. The reference database contains gene expression information from over 2,000 tumor specimens of known histogenesis, and representing ~95% of all solid tumors based on incidence.
- The CancerTYPE ID algorithm provides a predicted main type and any sub-types in rank-order by relative probabilities, which are based on the tumor's gene expression similarity to tumors of these types in the reference database.

Molecular Classification

- CancerTYPE ID classifies 28 tumor types and 50 tumor subtypes.
- In an independent validation of 2998 blinded samples, the molecular diagnosis was 87% accurate for main tumor type and 86% accurate for tumor subtype.

SAMPLE TEST REPORT



Interpreting CancerTYPE ID Test Results

MOLECULAR DIAGNOSIS

The [redacted] molecular diagnosis is the CancerTYPE ID prediction of certain tumor subtypes. It is reported probability (≥ 80%), the tumor is reported as "Indeterminate", in this case, the test report will also indicate tumor types that can be ruled out (see below) that cannot be excluded.

CAN NOT BE EXCLUDED

When applicable, tumor types on the CancerTYPE ID reference database that share some gene expression profile similarity to the patient's sample such that they cannot be excluded. Item diagnostic consideration will be listed here in rank order.

RULE OUTS

The CancerTYPE ID test report also lists tumor types that can all be ruled out with 95% confidence. In an independent validation of 2998 blinded samples, the rule-outs were 95% accurate. This may provide useful differential diagnostic information when two or more potential tumor types are suspected and one or more tumors may be ruled out in the rule outs.

I propose to change the system so that when density card output is requested, plotted densities are punched out. In the normal case these would simply be the average densities. If the next code calls for E.N.B. conversion, it would be the E.N.B. densities that are punched out. If the next breaks down, e.g. because of range check failure, we would get cards punched out for individual strips, since individuals are plotted in that case.

I would appreciate your comments on this proposal by January 2, 1971.

NOTICE: Never use plastic pipe. Check local codes before using pipe. Some codes require tubing of galvanized.

NOTICE: Many areas require qualified hired additional technicians to supply local information about gas and electricity and installation requirements.

Installing a New Gas Cook Top

Each appliance should be connected with the supply gas line with a manual shut off gas cock. A manual shut off gas cock must be located in the vicinity of the appliance. The gas cock must be in the open position during operation, consult your local municipal codes for the location of the cock.

Compression connections must be used on gas piping shall be used in the case of flared or soldered joints. The gas line should be checked closely by the installer. The pressure should be at least 5 inches water column for natural gas and 11 inches for propane gas. Check all connections and all compression connections for gas leaks.

⚠ WARNING

Never use an exposed flame as a means to locate gas leaks. Apply a mixture of soap and water to all joints. Bubbles indicate a gas leak. Turn off gas supply at the main shut off valve and repair the leak. Do not operate the appliance until the leak is repaired.

Each appliance and its individual shut off valve must be disconnected from the gas supply piping system during any pressure testing of that system at test pressures in excess of 1/2 psig (3.5 kPa).

The appliance must be isolated from the gas supply piping system by closing its individual manual shut off valve during any pressure testing of the gas supply piping system at test pressures equal to or less than 1/2 psig (3.5 kPa).

Pressure Testing the Gas Supply System

1. To check for gas leaks, apply a soap solution to all pipe joints. Bubbles indicate gas leaks. Tighten all joints that leak. Do not use a match or open flame to test for gas leaks.
2. The appliance and its individual shut off valve must be disconnected from the gas supply piping system during any pressure testing of that system at test pressures in excess of 1/2 psig (3.5 kPa).
3. The appliance must be isolated from the gas supply piping system by closing its individual manual shut off valve during any pressure testing of the gas supply piping system at test pressures equal to or less than 1/2 psig (3.5 kPa).

⚠ WARNING

If one of the above procedures results in pressures in excess of 1/2 psig (3.5 kPa), turn off the appliance shut off valve. Wait until it is safe to do so and then proceed.

Checking Manifold Pressure

3 Series Natural Gas Models

To check manifold pressure, turn off gas supply at the main shut off valve. Remove the pressure tap screw from the valve. Install a manometer or pressure gauge. Turn on gas supply at the main shut off valve. Turn on the appliance and allow it to operate for 15 minutes. Check the manifold pressure. It should be 4" W.C. (10 mbar). Turn off the appliance and remove the manometer or pressure gauge. Replace the pressure tap screw. Turn on the gas supply and check for leaks.

3 Series Hydraulic Thermostat Natural Gas Models

To check manifold pressure, turn off gas supply at the main shut off valve. Remove the pressure tap screw from the valve. Install a manometer or pressure gauge. Turn on gas supply at the main shut off valve. Turn on the appliance and allow it to operate for 15 minutes. Check the manifold pressure. It should be 4" W.C. (10 mbar). Turn off the appliance and remove the manometer or pressure gauge. Replace the pressure tap screw. Turn on the gas supply and check for leaks.

3 Series Millivolt Propane Gas Models

To check manifold pressure, turn off gas supply at the main shut off valve. Remove the pressure tap screw from the valve. Install a manometer or pressure gauge. Turn on gas supply at the main shut off valve. Turn on the appliance and allow it to operate for 15 minutes. Check the manifold pressure. It should be 10" W.C. (25 mbar). Turn off the appliance and remove the manometer or pressure gauge. Replace the pressure tap screw. Turn on the gas supply and check for leaks.

3 Series Hydraulic Thermostat Propane Gas Models

To check manifold pressure, turn off gas supply at the main shut off valve. Remove the pressure tap screw from the valve. Install a manometer or pressure gauge. Turn on gas supply at the main shut off valve. Turn on the appliance and allow it to operate for 15 minutes. Check the manifold pressure. It should be 10" W.C. (25 mbar). Turn off the appliance and remove the manometer or pressure gauge. Replace the pressure tap screw. Turn on the gas supply and check for leaks.

Conversion to Propane Gas

To convert the appliance to propane gas, you must install the propane gas orifices. The orifices are located in the gas valve. Remove the gas valve from the appliance. Remove the orifices from the gas valve. Install the propane gas orifices in the gas valve. Reinstall the gas valve in the appliance. Turn on the gas supply and check for leaks.

How Can I Test Our Fax Machine For my boss Ginny?

just hooked up a new fax machine, and I'd like to test it, just to make sure it works. How can I do that?

Presumably, you want to test your fax machine by sending a fax from it and receiving a fax with it. Here's how to do both:

To test the send functionality of your fax machine, send a one-page fax to 1-888-877-1655 (a toll free number in the United States.) When it's finished transmitting, point your web browser to Fax.Tov — it's a fun web site that displays whatever is faxed to that number. Within a minute, your fax should appear on the site. Click the thumbnail to see a large version.

To test the receive functionality of your fax machine, point your web browser to FaxZero, this site lets you send faxes for free to anywhere in the United States and Canada. Within a few minutes, your fax machine should ring — hopefully, it will automatically answer and spit out the test fax.

MammaPrint Result

Unable to provide result for this specimen

[redacted] a result of the MammaPrint test a prognostic profile. The MammaPrint result is calculated from a numerical index based [redacted] of these tumors with clinical [redacted] is considered useful while a test is now with traces of it are considered high risk. Patients with cancer cells [redacted] at least 10 years distant metastasis free survival (DMFS) and a 97% survival rate with adjuvant treatment while High Risk indicates an average 10 year DMFS rate of 71% without any systemic adjuvant treatment.

Additional Comments:

Clinical validation for MammaPrint was performed on only female breast cancer patients. Clinical correlation for a male breast cancer patient as patients. We may unable to provide a MammaPrint result for this specimen due to insufficient amount of tumor. Please re-breast an alternate specimen if available and clinically indicated.

Assay Description

[redacted] ce, NYM. A description of MammaPrint with fresh tissue for patients of all ages with invasive breast cancer whose tumor is [redacted] type, except tubular (T+N+). Besides the U.S., MammaPrint has appropriate additional specimen compliments with [redacted] fresh and formalin-fixed paraffin-embedded (FFPE) breast cancer tissue for patients with up to 3 positive lymph [redacted] cancer patients. The test is performed using a microarray-based gene expression profile that was independently [redacted] cancer. Patients undergo surgical resection of the entire tumor, genomic [redacted] 25,000 genes, followed by a hybridization [redacted] to an array containing 70 genes representing 1,765 probe sets. Results are reported as High Risk or Low Risk of subsequent [redacted] metastasis. Therefore, this MammaPrint result provides independently validated, and clinically significant additional information to physicians to help them decide on treatment in early stage breast cancer patients.

Based on the analytical performance of MammaPrint, the precision of classifying a sample as High Risk or Low Risk is 99% for fresh and 97.3% for FFPE, and the repeatability of the assay/workflow is 99% for fresh and 97.8% for FFPE. Furthermore, when a fresh sample's MammaPrint Index (MPI) falls within a pre-defined area around the classification [redacted] cut-off between -0.0823 and +0.0823, the classification accuracy is less than 90%.

The unanimous Declaration of the thirteen united States of America.

When in the Course of human Events it becomes necessary for one people to dissolve the political bands which have connected them with another and to assume among the powers of the earth, the separate and equal station to which the Laws of Nature & of Nature's God entitle them, a decent respect to the opinions of mankind requires that they should declare the causes which impel them to the separation.

HP Fax Products - Testing Your HP Fax Machine with the HP Fax Test Service

Introduction

This document will instruct you to test your HP Fax machine using the HP Fax Test Service.

Print this document for easy reference by clicking the Printable Version link in the upper right corner of this page.

Test your fax machine

To test the capability of your fax machine, follow the directions below.

NOTE:

Be sure that your phone number is not listed in blocked by your telephone company prior to attempting to send and receive a fax. Prefixing *82 before dialing the toll free number will unblock. In Canada, blocking tools vary by carrier. Other phone company services can prevent you from receiving a fax, including voice mail, call blocking, or call privacy features.

NOTE:

Whenever troubleshooting a fax issue, it is good practice to set the Automatically Answers option to Every Ring for all incoming and test fax. This way, even if a wrong fax tone or error code will be generated that will guide you in future troubleshooting. This option is available in different places on different products; consult the product user's guide for specific steps.

1. Send a one page black and white test fax to 1-858-495-8403 (1-858-495-8403).
2. When your fax is received by the HP Test Fax Service, we will generate a return fax to you within the minutes confirm that we received your fax. This confirmation will also both send and receive a fax with your fax machine.

If you do not receive a return fax or the STOP button does not appear, there may be a problem with the setup of your fax machine. Consult the user manual that came with the product for proper setup and configuration.

NOTE:

The most common cause of failure is that the Fax Header on the machine does not match the number of the phone line connected to the fax. Also, ensure that the fax header contains the full 10-digit telephone number of the fax machine, including the area code.

This will ensure that all Fax Sharing features function smoothly. To download the latest version of DCOM98, visit the Microsoft Web site at http://www.microsoft.com/Com/resources/downloads.asp
This is required ONLY if you want to run WinFax in Fax Sharing mode

When the Fax Sharing option is enabled, you must have the same date, time, and location settings on both the host and the client computers. Additionally, the dial as entered location should not be used when configuring the Fax Sharing host, as this may incorrectly assemble phone numbers sent from the Fax Sharing client.

When running in Fax Sharing mode, you must be running the same language versions of your operating system on both the host and the client computers.

When running in Fax Sharing mode, a mixture of double-byte
character (DBCS) and single-byte character (SBCS) systems may not be used. Both the host and client machines must be using the same type of character system.

《洞窟物语》是于2004年发布的一款PC平台上的免费平台冒险游戏，由天舍大辅利用5年间的业余时间开发而成。《洞窟物语》以其为2D平台技术的充分利用与游戏画面著称，虽也反对作者年少时玩过的《银河战士》等经典风格游戏的致敬之作，在作者自行发行该游戏后，《洞窟物语》各角色上逐渐建得众人青睐，其初人设与游戏模式也为评论家所称道。后来在2010年间，独立游戏开发商N-sanic和天舍大辅开展协作，将游戏移植到了WiiWare与DSiWare平台，而《洞窟物语》的续作《洞窟物语+》则于2011年11月登陆Steam Nicalis亦为游戏至制3D版本，并于2011年11月以《洞窟物语3D》之名发布任天堂3DS平台版本

Mr Hansen

Thanks you for considering [illegible] the [illegible] of landscaping in your new divisional headquarters We are pleased to submit our proposal herewith for the concept phase as agreed earlier

Since your available area is somewhat limited we suggest a modular layout This concept emphasizes space conservation and yet still provides for a modern pleasing atmosphere

Enclosed are two floor plans The first one will allow you to keep your present furniture The second was designed with the intention that our new space saving modules be used Notice that the latter will provide for more spacious accommodations and/or room for additional personnel Also included are the specification sheets on these products

After you have had a chance to study our ideas I would like to set up a meeting during October to discuss any further refinements I will have my secretary make the arrangements. Please call me in the interim if you have any questions

YOUR SOCIAL SECURITY CARD

The Social Security number shown on your card is yours alone. Do not allow others to use your number as their own. Record your number in a safe place so that you can't lose or misuse. Protect both your card and your number to prevent their misuse.

You should contact us to update your Social Security number records if your name, your U.S. citizenship status, or your status as an alien in the U.S. changes. You will need to file an application for a corrected Social Security card and provide proof of your identity and we may request certain other evidence appropriate for a change.

Show your card to your employer when you start a new job. Make sure your employer uses the name and number exactly as it is shown on your Social Security card so we can record your earnings correctly.

Some private organizations use Social Security numbers for record keeping purposes. Such use is neither required nor prohibited by Federal law. The use of your Social Security number by such an organization for its own records is a private matter between you and the organization. Private organizations cannot get information from your Social Security record just because they know your number.

Any government agency that asks for your number must tell you whether giving it is mandatory or voluntary, the authority for requesting the number, and how the number will be used.

If you are an alien who is not permanently authorized to work in the U.S., your Social Security card will be marked "NOT VALID FOR EMPLOYMENT." We will not tell U.S. immigration officials if you use the number to work.

If you are an alien legally in the U.S. on temporary permission to work, your Social Security card will be marked "VALID FOR WORK ONLY WITH DHS AUTHORIZATION." If you show this card to an employer as evidence of employment eligibility, you will also have to show your U.S. immigration document authorizing employment.

You should contact Social Security right away to apply for benefits if you become disabled, reach retirement age or are about to retire at age 65.

You can reach us at 1-800-772-1213 or through our website at www.socialsecurity.gov.

TEST 1

Security hardening on Ubuntu Server 14.04

Recently I've been involved with a project where I needed to perform some security hardening on Amazon Web Services EC2 instances running Ubuntu Server 12.04 so I used this excellent guide as a starting point, then I added removed and modified things as needed

I decided to take those procedures and modify them for Ubuntu Server 14.04 now that this new LTS version has been released. Some of the procedures from 12.04 no longer need to be performed and some needed to be changed. The following guidelines are what I've ended up with. You might find these guidelines useful to varying extents on other Linux distributions but there will be potentially very significant differences depending on which distro you're using.

Assume that all these operations need to be performed as root, which you can either do with `sudo` or by logging in as root first. (I've noticed that Ubuntu users seem particularly averse to logging in as root, apparently preferring instead to issue an endless series of commands starting with `sudo`, but I'm afraid that kind of extra hassle is not for me...so I just log in as root first.)

Harden SSH

I generally regard it as a very sensible idea to disable any kind of root login over SSH, so in /etc/ssh/sshd_config change `PermitRootLogin` to `no`.

If SSH on your servers is open to the world then I also advise running SSH on a non-standard port in order to avoid incoming SSH hacking attempts. To do that, in /etc/ssh/sshd_config change `Port` from `22` to another port of your choice, e.g. `1022`. Note that you'll need to update your firewall or EC2 security rules accordingly.

After making changes to SSH, reload the OpenSSH server:

service ssh reload

Limit `su` access to administrators only

It generally seems like a sensible idea to make sure that only users in the sudo group are able to run the `su` command in order to act as (or become) root:

dpkg-statoverride --update --add root sudo 4750 /bin/su

Form W-4 (2009)

Purpose. Complete Form W-4 so that your employer can withhold the correct federal income tax from your pay. Consider completing a new Form W-4 each year and when your personal or financial situation changes.

Exemption from withholding. If you are both (a) complete only lines 1, 2, 3, 4, and 7 and sign the form to validate it. Your exemption for 2009 expires February 16, 2010. See Pub. 505, Tax Withholding and Estimated Tax.

Note. You cannot claim exemption from withholding if (a) your income exceeds $900 and includes more than $300 of unearned income (for example, interest and dividends) and (b) another person can claim you as a dependent on their tax return.

Basic instructions. If you are not exempt, complete the Personal Allowances Worksheet below. The worksheets on page 2 further adjust your withholding allowances based on itemized deductions, certain credits, adjustments to income, or two-earner/multiple job situations.

Complete all worksheets that apply. However, you may claim fewer (or zero) allowances. For regular wages, withholding must be based on allowances you claimed and may not be a flat amount or percentage of wages.

Head of household. Generally, you may claim head of household filing status on your tax return only if you are unmarried and pay more than 50% of the costs of keeping up a home for yourself and your dependent(s) or other qualifying individuals. See Pub. 501, Exemptions, Standard Deduction, and Filing Information, for information.

Tax credits. You can take projected tax credits into account in figuring your allowable number of withholding allowances. Credits for child or dependent care expenses and the child tax credit may be claimed using the Personal Allowances Worksheet below. See Pub. 919, How Do I Adjust My Tax Withholding, for information on converting your other credits into withholding allowances.

Nonwage income. If you have a large amount of nonwage income, such as interest or dividends, consider making estimated tax payments using Form 1040-ES, Estimated Tax for Individuals. Otherwise, you may owe additional tax. If you have earned income and itemized deductions, or if you have nonwage income, you may also want to use the Deductions Worksheet on page 2 so that you do not have too much tax withheld.

Two earners or multiple jobs. If you have a working spouse or more than one job, figure the total number of allowances you are entitled to claim on all jobs using worksheets from only one Form W-4. Your withholding usually will be most accurate when all allowances are claimed on the Form W-4 for the highest paying job and zero allowances are claimed on the others. See Pub. 919 for details.

Married individuals. If you are a married individual, see the instructions for Form 8233 before completing this Form W-4.

Check your withholding. After your Form W-4 takes effect, use Pub. 919 to see how the amount you are having withheld compares to your projected total tax for 2009. Get Pub. 919 especially if your earnings exceed $130,950 (Single) or $196,430 (Married).

Personal Allowances Worksheet (Keep for your records.)

A	Enter "1" for yourself if no one else can claim you as a dependent	A
	• You are single and have only one job; or
B	Enter "1" if: • You are married, have only one job, and your spouse does not work; or	B
	• Your wages from a second job or your spouse's wages (or the total of both) are $1,000 or less.
C	Enter "1" for your spouse. But, you may choose to enter "-0-" if you are married and have either a working spouse or more than one job. (Entering "-0-" may help you avoid having too little tax withheld.)	C
D	Enter number of dependents (other than your spouse or yourself) you will claim on your tax return	D
E	Enter "1" if you will file as head of household on your tax return (see conditions under Head of household above)	E
F	Enter "1" if you have at least $1,900 of child or dependent care expenses for which you plan to claim a credit	F
	(Note. Do not include child support payments. See Pub. 503, Child and Dependent Care Expenses, for details.)
G	Child Tax Credit (including advance payments). See Pub. 972, Child Tax Credit, for more information.
	• If your child's income will be less than $3,650 ($7,300 if married), enter "2" for each eligible child; then less "1" if you have three or more eligible children.
	• If your total income will be between $61,000 and $84,000 ($122,000 and $168,000 if married), enter "1" for each eligible child; plus "1" additional if you have six or more eligible children.	G
H	Add lines A through G and enter total here (Note. This may be different from the number of exemptions you claim on your tax return.) ▶	H

For accuracy, complete all worksheets that apply.

- If you plan to itemize or claim adjustments to income and want to reduce your withholding, see the Deductions and Adjustments Worksheet on page 2.
- If you have more than one job or are married and you and your spouse both work and the combined earnings from all jobs exceed $40,000 ($25,000 if married) see the Two-Earners/Multiple Jobs Worksheet on page 2 to avoid having too little tax withheld.
- If neither of the above situations applies, stop here and enter the number from line H on line 5 of Form W-4 below.

Cut here and give Form W-4 to your employer. Keep the top part for your records.

One good leak deserves another. Here's the 100% working fix to Uncharted 3! (for KMEAW 3.55 CFW)

Follow these steps IN ORDER

(1) Move PSARC.EXE + zlib.dll to \USRDIR\build\main\ of your UNCHARTED 3 GAME DATA folder (not the one included with this package)

(2) Extract ALL *.psarc's into the folder they are already in (\USRDIR\build\main\) on your HDD by dragging each .PSARC file onto PSARC.EXE (delete the .PSARC files after you have extracted them to folders)

When you're done it should look like this:

\USRDIR\build\main\actor33\
\USRDIR\build\main\animstream4\
\USRDIR\build\main\bin\dc1\
\USRDIR\build\main\pak23\
\USRDIR\build\main\text1\

IMPORTANT: When you unpack bin.psarc it creates two folders - empty bin folder and one bindc1 folder with files. Rename folder bindc1 to dc1 and put it in the \main\bin\ folder so it looks like this: \main\bin\dc1\

(3) Now, merge included USRDIR folder with the existing one where you extracted your psarcs. OVERWRITE all files when prompted

(4) Transfer to your PS3, load in Multiman, launch from XMB

SO...

You've been Indefinitely Detained!

An information sheet for U.S. citizens from your United States of America government

Welcome to the Barack H. Obama Indefinite Detention Center!

You're here because someone in the U.S. government determined that you work for al-Qaeda or the Taliban. Or that you substantially supported them, or an associated group, or whatever and whatnot.

You might be wondering who determined this, and on what basis.

You have no right to this information, which is why you've been given this sheet instead.

You will find in your cell a toothbrush, a Koran, and your schedule of interrogation sessions.

Please be assured: interrogation techniques will not cross the threshold of "torture-ish."

Frequently Asked Questions, Which You'll Have Plenty of Time to Contemplate:

Q. Doesn't America have a Bill of Rights?
A. Yes, and upon request, we can replace your Koran with a copy of the U.S. Constitution or your solo reading material.

Q. Have I been disappeared?
A. People aren't "disappeared" in America!

Only in lawless dictatorships can intransitive verbs be used to make passive verb forms.

Q. Isn't this very wrong?
A. That's just the kind of thing an Enemy of America would say. What are your relatives' addresses? Never mind. We know.

Q. I was grabbed at a T.G.I.F.'s and put in the back of a van. Were the fried mozzarella sticks I was eating part of it?
A. This is a nation of laws, not men! T.G.I.F.'s has been fully compensated, and your waitstaff tipped 18.5%.

BUT HERE'S THE GOOD NEWS:

The U.S. can only hold you until the end of "hostilities"!

So the minute the Prime Minister of al-Qaeda signs a peace treaty, and no bad guys do or plan anything under its name ever again, YOU'LL BE EITHER TRIED OR RELEASED!

Please read our most informational brochure for U.S. Citizens.

Acute ST-Segment Elevation Myocardial Infarction*

American College of Chest Physicians Evidence-Based Clinical Practice Guidelines (8th Edition)

Shaun G. Goodman, MD; Venu Menon, MD; Christopher P. Cannon, MD, PhD; Gabriel Steg, MD, FCCP; E. Magnus Ohman, MD, FCCP; and Robert A. Harrington, MD, FCCP

This chapter about fibrinolytic, antiplatelet, and antithrombin treatment for acute ST-segment elevation (STE) myocardial infarction (MI) is part of the American College of Chest Physicians Evidence-Based Clinical Practice Guidelines (8th Edition) Grade 1 recommendations are, strong and indicate that the benefits do, or do not, outweigh risks, burden and costs Grade 2 suggests that individual patient values may lead to different choices (for a full understanding of the grading see the chapter by Guyatt et al. [CHEST 2006; 133[3suppl]: 123S–131S]). Among the key recommendations in this chapter are the following, for patients with ischemic symptoms characteristic of acute MI of ≤ 12 h in duration and persistent STE we recommend that all undergo rapid evaluation for reperfusion (primary percutaneous coronary intervention [PCI] or fibrinolytic) therapy and have a reperfusion strategy implemented promptly after contact with the health-care system (Grade 1A). For patients with ischemic symptoms characteristic of acute MI of ≤ 12 h in duration and persistent STE, we recommend administration of streptokinase, anistreplase, alteplase, reteplase, or tenecteplase over no fibrinolytic therapy (all Grade 1A). For patients with symptom duration ≤ 6 h we recommend the administration of alteplase or tenecteplase over streptokinase (both Grade 1A). We recommend aspirin over no aspirin therapy followed by indefinite therapy (Grade 1A); we also recommend clopidogrel in addition to aspirin for up to 28 days (Grade 1A). In addition to aspirin and other antiplatelet therapies, we recommend the use of antithrombin therapy (eg, enoxaparin or fondaparinux) over no antithrombin therapy (Grade 1A), including for those patients receiving fibrinolysis (and regardless of which lytic agent is administered) primary PCI, or patients not receiving reperfusion therapy (CHEST 2008; 133:708S–775S)

Key words: antithrombin drugs; antiplatelet drugs; fibrinolytic therapy; myocardial infarction

Abbreviations. ACb = acute coronary syndrome; ACT = activated clotting time; APTT = activated partial thromboplastin time; BBB = bundle-branch block; CI = confidence interval; FTT = Fibrinolytic Therapy Trialists; GP = glycoprotein; HIT = heparin induced thrombocytopenia; HR = hazard ratio; ICH = intracranial hemorrhage; IRA = infarct-related artery; LMWH = low-molecular-weight heparin; MI = myocardial infarction; OR = odds ratio; PCI = percutaneous coronary intervention; PTCA = percutaneous transluminal coronary angioplasty; RR = relative risk; RRR = relative risk reduction; SC = subcutaneous; STE = ST-segment elevation; tPA = tissue plasminogen activator; UFH = unfractionated heparin

HOUSE OF DELEGATES

WILLIAM J. HOWELL
SPEAKER

February 2013

Dear Friends,

The Virginia General Assembly has reached the halfway point of the 2013 legislative session. The House of Delegates has considered almost 1500 pieces of legislation to this point and will have to look at another 500 pieces of Senate legislation over the remaining 17 days. Next week we

Transportation and Virginia's bond bill, immigration, schools, addressing Virginia's transportation funding needs and crafting a smart and state government that have been our top priorities for this year. I hope and to report that the House of Delegates has already accomplished a great deal on these fronts.

Jobs and economic development remain the most important issues. The House of Delegates is working to advance job creation, strengthen our workforce and promote entrepreneurs

Our budget includes targeted economic development incentives that are to create good, high paying jobs in Virginia. We have expanded the Virginia Enterprise Zone program, which encourages investment in Virginia's urban centers and job creation. We also dedicated $5 million to Governor McDonnell's initiative to attract cyber security companies to Virginia.

We have passed legislation to promote workforce training for students and adults. We expanded the authority of the Virginia Workforce Council and established workforce training grants to provide workers with skills and trained. We created Health Care Work Partnerships to encourage students to apprentice with companies in clinical and vocational jobs.

The House of Delegates also passed legislation to encourage new businesses and entrepreneurs to [illegible] Virginia. [illegible] Virginia will [illegible] companies [illegible] [illegible] companies like Ford Motor Company and Apple Computers were started in garages. We want the next great inventor or business to be started in Virginia.

All of these measures will help strengthen our economy. We will continue to make Virginia the best state for business by keeping taxes low, unnecessary regulations and promoting a strong workforce.

A strong [illegible] education system will also mean stronger communities. We have passed an initiative to [illegible] Education Fund to reward students, teachers with a 2 percent pay raise, promote flexibility in the classroom by limiting unnecessary mandates and give families the right to choose a school by promoting school choice and creating a mechanism to [illegible] schools. Education is [illegible] opportunity for our children and preparing them for the jobs of tomorrow.

Mold Tips: Deep Form Three-Step Process

Notes generated in the Bullseye Research & Education studios, firing in front-loading Paragon GL24 kilns

Note: The following tips do not guarantee a uniform result. Because of the steep-sided nature of these molds, pieces may slump unevenly.

MOLDS NEEDED FOR THIS PROCESS

- 17" Ball Surface / Deep Form Step One (8738)
- Deep Form Step Two (8990)
- Deep Form Step Three (8981)

OTHER HELPFUL ITEMS

- ID 75" Drop Out Ring mold (8631) or 6" Ball Surface mold (8745)
- A level and a flat straight edge that fits in the kiln (to set across the top of the mold (we used a strip of sheet glass))
- Suction Lifter - Large (7195) or Small (7196)
- 2mm Heat Protective Gloves (8285)
- Protective face shield (available at most hardware stores)

OVERVIEW

This process involves slumping a 16"-diameter circle over the course of three firings. Each consecutive firing shapes the form - ultimately resulting in a relatively deep, tall, steep-sided vessel. For our testing, we worked with an assortment of and non-color 6 mm pieces (two 3 mm layers of a single color or a single 3 mm color with a 3 mm Clear top). Pieces were kept in the same orientation as the initial full face (i.e., not flipped) with the shelf side in contact with the mold

17" BALL SURFACE / DEEP FORM STEP ONE MOLD (8738)

This is a relatively conventional slumping form. Elevate the mold from the floor of the kiln using 2" posts. As with other gently sloped molds, a standard five-coat application of Bullseye Shelf Primer will serve for many slump firings.

SUGGESTED FIRING SCHEDULE

	RATE (DEGREES / HOUR)	TEMPERATURE	HOLD
1	250°F (138°C)	1200°F (649°C)	:05
2	AFAP	900°F (482°C)	1:00
3	100°F (56°C)	700°F (372°C)	:30
4	AFAP	70°F (21°C)	:00

Firing schedules are intended as a starting point. Results may vary.

DEEP FORM STEP TWO (8990)

A smooth, well-primed surface for this form contributes to a uniform slump. Apply five coats of Bullseye Shelf Primer and kiln dry or dry as directed. If your mold has already been primed and slumped into, gently remove the remaining primer with a dry scrub pad before re-priming.

This mold does not have a flat base. To create a stable base, elevate either Drop Out Ring or 6" Ball Surface mold on 2" posts and set Deep Form Step Two on top. Once the base is ready, place the slumped bowl from Step 1 into Deep Form Step Two - making an effort to center and level the set-up.

SUGGESTED FIRING SCHEDULE

	RATE (DEGREES / HOUR)	TEMPERATURE	HOLD
1	250°F (139°C)	1200°F (649°C)	:05
2	AFAP	900°F (482°C)	1:30
3	100°F (56°C)	700°F (371.1°)	:00
4	AFAP	70°F (21°C)	:00

Firing schedules are intended as a starting point. Results may vary.

Testing Your HP Fax Machine with the HP Fax Test Service

Print Share

Contact HP

Introduction

This document will assist you in testing your HP Fax machine using the HP Fax Test service. Print this document for easy reference by clicking the Printable Version link in the upper right corner of this page.

Test your fax machine

To test the capability of your fax machine, follow the directions below:

NOTE: Be sure that your phone number is not Caller ID blocked by your telephone company prior to attempting to send and receive a fax. Pressing *82 before dialing the toll free number will unblock the Caller ID blocking feature on most cards. Other phone company services can prevent you from receiving a fax, including voice mail, call blocking, or call privacy features.

NOTE: Whenever troubleshooting a fax issue, it is good practice to set the Automatic Reports option to Every Error before attempting a test fax. This way, even if the test fax fails, an error code will be generated that will guide you in further troubleshooting. This option is available in different places on different products, consult the product User's Guide for specific steps.

1. Send a one page black and white test fax to 1-866-hpixame (1-866-473-2963).
2. When your fax is received by the HP Test Fax Service, we will generate a return fax to you within five minutes confirming that we received your fax. This verifies that you can both send and receive a fax with your fax machine.

If you do not receive a return fax within 5-7 minutes, there may be a problem with the setup of your fax machine. Consult the user manual that came with the product for proper setup and configuration.

NOTE: The most common cause of failure is that the fax number set in the Fax Header on the machine does not match the number of the phone line connected to the fax. Also ensure that the fax header contains the full 10-digit telephone number of the fax machine, including the area code.

For more information or assistance, click Contact HP at the top of this page.

Step 3 Make a Test Call Using OBiTALK

At any time, you may place a test call to the OBi Number below:

OBiTALK Test No:

Dial 9 followed by: 222 222 222

Your OBi is ready to make FREE calls to other OBi subscribers using the OBiTALK network. On the bottom of your unit, you will see a 9-digit OBi Number. This is your OBi Number. Give this number to your friends, family and colleagues so they can call you from their OBi device or using the OBiON iPhone and Android apps for smart phones.

To use the OBiTALK network, all you have to do is install your OBi, pick up the phone and then call your friends by dialing *9 and their nine-digit OBi Number.

Step 4 Set-Up an OBiTALK Account Then Add Your OBi to the Account

Go to: www.obitalk.com

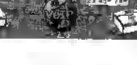
Register for an OBiTALK account. This will allow you to easily activate devices and add any commercial VoIP services used with your OBi.



The first time you log-in to OBiTALK, a pop-up window will appear allowing you to add your device.

Click "Yes" to add Your OBi Device to the OBiTALK Dashboard. After adding your device, you will be able to set up voice services and other configuration information. Multiple devices may be added to a single account.

Follow the on-screen instructions to add your OBi device to your OBiTALK account.

Once added, you will be directed to the Device Configuration page.

- Set your OBi display name, time zone, and daylight savings values.
- Select the "Save Changes" button.

Step 5 Set-Up VoIP Services

After you register and add your OBi device at www.obitalk.com, the OBi Device Configuration page will help you set-up commercial VoIP services such as the Google Voice™ common carrier service.

Do this by selecting the Google Voice Set-Up button. You may also select from any one of the other listed service providers. If your service is not there, you may use the Generic Service Provider option.

Generally, all you will need to set-up a service is the User Name and Password for the service.

New Year's Eve

Last New Year's Eve, a lady stood up at the local pub at one minute to midnight and said that it was time to get ready for the celebrations.

At the stroke of midnight, she wanted every husband to be standing next to the one person who made his life worth living.

Well, it was kind of embarrassing. The bartender was almost crushed to death.

Testing Your HP Fax Machine with the HP Fax Test Service

Share Feedback

Introduction

This document will walk you through the HP Fax Test Service to help you troubleshoot fax issues. Before contacting HP support, please try the following steps to help resolve issues with your fax machine.

Test your fax machine

Before you begin, verify that the following are true:

- Your fax machine is connected to a working telephone line.
- The telephone cord is connected to the correct port on the fax machine.
- You are using the telephone cord that came with your fax machine.

NOTE: Make sure that your phone number is set correctly in the fax machine's settings. Incorrect phone number settings can cause fax failures.

NOTE: If you are using a digital phone service, such as DSL, cable, or VoIP, you may need to adjust your fax machine's settings before you can send and receive faxes successfully. Contact your digital phone service provider for more information.

1. Send a test page (black and white or color) from your fax machine to the HP Fax Test Service at 1-855-XXX-XXXX.
2. Within minutes, you should receive a fax report from the HP Fax Test Service. Review the report to see if your fax machine passed or failed the test.

If you do not receive a report from the HP Fax Test Service, it may be a problem with the phone line, the fax machine, or the fax machine's settings. Contact your phone service provider for assistance with your phone line, or see the fax machine's documentation for help with troubleshooting fax issues.

NOTE: The HP Fax Test Service does not support fax numbers that begin with a 1 (one) followed by the area code. If your fax machine is configured to dial a 1 (one) before the area code, remove the 1 (one) from the fax machine's settings and then test the fax machine again.

For more information on troubleshooting fax issues, see the HP Fax Troubleshooting Guide at the end of this page.

Hello dslreports Voip tech chat forum friends..

This is a Voip Test fax, sent out via tf callwithus com

...To blow away one of the greatest myths about faxing over VoIP -- G.711 is not always required - in fact G.726 was originally invented for the PSTN for international calls. I normally use G.726 since it's half the bandwidth at the 24kbps rate, and it sounds almost just as good as G.711. This fax, along with all my other calls is sent out with G.726 at the 24kbps rate, so it is living proof that you don't always need G.711.

I'd say network jitter and packet loss are bigger threats .. after all the PSTN uses G.711 in non-packetized networks. As long as your internet connection is low in jitter and packet loss, the high network overhead of VoIP and the buffering of your ata's shold then be able to keep call quality within tolerances for fax modems to work.

Hurst and once with Miss Bingley declined being introduced to any other lady and spent the rest of the evening in walking about the room speaking occasionally to one of his own party. His character was decided. He was the proudest most disagreeable man in the world, and every body hoped that he would never come there again. Amongst the most violent against him was Mrs. Bennet, whose dislike of his general behaviour was sharpened into particular resentment, by his having slighted one of her daughters.

Elizabeth Bennet had been obliged, by the scarcity of gentlemen, to sit down for two dances; and during part of that time, Mr. Darcy had been standing near enough for her to overhear a conversation between him and Mr. Bingley, who came from the dance for a few minutes, to press his friend to join it.

"Come, Darcy," said he, "I must have you dance. I hate to see you standing about by yourself in this stupid manner. You had much better dance."

"I certainly shall not. You know how I detest it, unless I am particularly acquainted with my partner. At such an assembly as this, it would be insupportable. Your sisters are engaged, and there is not another woman in the room whom it would not be a punishment to me to stand up with."

"I would not be so fastidious as you are," cried Bingley, "for a kingdom! Upon my honour, I never met with so many pleasant girls in my life as I have this evening, and there are several of them, you see, uncommonly pretty."

"You are dancing with the only handsome girl in the room," said Mr. Darcy, looking at the eldest Miss Bennet.

"Oh, she is the most beautiful creature I ever beheld! But there is one of her sisters sitting down just behind you, who is very pretty, and I dare say very agreeable. Do let me ask my partner to introduce you."

"Which do you mean?" and turning round, he looked for a moment at Elizabeth, till catching her eye, he withdrew his own, and coldly said, "She is tolerable, but not handsome

- If materials inside the oven ignite, keep oven door closed, turn oven off, and disconnect the power cord, or shut off power at the fuse or circuit breaker panel.
- Do not use the cavity for storage purposes. Do not leave paper products, cooking utensils or food in the cavity when not in use.
- Liquids such as water, coffee, or tea are able to be overheated beyond the boiling point without obvious signs of boiling. Visible bubbles may or may not form when the container is removed from the microwave oven. This is always possible. THIS COULD RESULT IN VERY HOT LIQUIDS SUDDENLY BOILING OVER WHEN THE CONTAINER IS DISTURBED OR A SPOON OR OTHER UTENSIL IS INSERTED INTO THE LIQUID.

To reduce the risk of injury to persons:

- Do not overheat the liquid.
- Stir the liquid both before and halfway through heating.

- Do not store this microwave oven outdoors. Do not use the microwave oven near water, for example near a kitchen sink, in a wet basement, or near a swimming pool, or similar location.
- Do not immerse cord or plug in water.
- Keep cord away from heated surfaces.
- Do not let cord hang over edge of table or counter.
- Do not clean over a sink.
- Do not use metal racks or any other part of the oven with metal foil. This will cause overheating of the oven.

SAVE THESE INSTRUCTIONS

PRECAUTIONS TO AVOID POSSIBLE EXPOSURE TO EXCESSIVE MICROWAVE ENERGY

(a) Do not attempt to operate the oven with the door open since open-door operation can result in harmful exposure to microwave energy. It is important not to defeat or tamper with the safety interlocks.

(b) Do not place any object between the oven front face and the door or allow soil or cleaner residue to accumulate on sealing surfaces.

(c) Do not operate the oven if it is damaged. It is particularly important that the oven door close properly and that there is no damage to the:

Tips for Treadmill Workouts

We put together our tips for treadmill workouts in response to many of you who have a treadmill collecting dust after a few months. Some of you just don't seem to get an optimal workout from it. You may have bought a treadmill and die—do only get bored, or maybe you haven't seen the results you were expecting. In both instances, the problem isn't the treadmill. The problem is a understanding treadmill exercise and staying motivated.

Common Problems with Treadmill Workouts

One common mistake with treadmill exercise is simply staying on and walking or jogging at the same speed for twenty or thirty minutes. This will quickly make you very tired and very bored. It also doesn't make for an efficient workout.

Treadmill Motivational Music for Your iPod or MP3 Player

Another common mistake is starting out at the pace you want to maintain without warming up and without pacing yourself. Treadmill exercise like this will quickly lead to sore muscles and possibly injuries, not to mention frustration. It also means you aren't using all of your lower body muscles effectively.

Tips for Safe Treadmill Workouts

There are several important elements to effective treadmill exercise. A few things to keep in mind are:

- Always warm up. It is essential to stretch your muscles and warm them up slowly by walking at a speed of no more than 3.0 to 3.5 mph for a minute or two. Switching from the heels to the toes for thirty seconds each, then stretching out your stride for another minute will help stretch all muscles properly. If you've increased your level of fitness after a time, you can increase the speed of your warm-up to as fast as 4 mph, which is basically power walking or a light jog.
- Increase your workout slowly. You should stay at one level for two weeks before moving on to the next level of difficulty. Any faster and you risk over-taxing your muscles or sustaining an injury. This is one of the most important tips for treadmill workouts

7.2) Geometric Sequences

- a sequence that has a common ratio between any pair of consecutive terms

Ex 3, 6, 12, 24, 48

1) General Term $t_n = 3 \times 2^{n-1}$

$t_1 = 3$

$t_2 = 3 \times 2$

$t_3 = 3 \times 2^2$

$t_4 = 3 \times 2^3$

$t_n = a r^{n-1}$ (first term, common ratio)

2) Recursive Formula

$t_1 = a$ $t_n = r(t_{n-1})$ Ex) $t_1 = 3$, $t_n = 2(t_{n-1})$

$t_2 = 2(3)$

$= 6$

From the Desk of Kiwi Miller Barton

December 11, 2011

Dear Family, Friends, and Fellow Canines (and a limited number of cats):

I hope this correspondence finds you happy and well. This is Kiwi. And, as the oldest and clearly the most sophisticated member of the Miller-Barton household, I've been charged with crafting this year's holiday letter. I'm in the process of forking my annual bark-lava concoction, so I'll keep this brief. Here in Colorado the Big Pinks continue to love me with all of their heart – while Little Pink – that toddling, manic fireball of a hominid –does his best to terrorize me at every turn. I forgive him his undeveloped pre-frontal cortex. Truth be told, I feel duplicitous at times, pretending to be his ally in the hopes of a home-cooked handout slipping from his grubby little fists. The 1-year old photo below shows the day that my life forever changed, when Little Pink learned to walk. See the way he grasps my fur…a telltale sign of the abuse to follow? And yet…I love him! For the way he makes us young and silly.

Our family just moved. We weren't on the hunt for a new place, but a month ago…the Big Pinks decided we needed a new set of house projects, which required me to collect and transport my 8 year old bone stash (8 X 7 = 56 dog yrs) to a new location. I never had a chance to say good-bye to my nemesis, a middle aged squirrel who rules the cul-de-sac…but I anticipate befriending some of his kin here (wink-wink).

Mom and Dad abandoned me for a 3-month stint in China, but then rewarded me with a 10-day road trip to California to see my Aunt and Grandmother (Aunt Sue pretends not to like me, but I understand her distancing-pursuit technique well). Master Eli was able to visit Mongolia & Japan with the Big Pinks, but I saw the blue highways of Utah and Arizona from the back seat of a Subaru. I slept in a motel in Kingman. How cool is that?

Overall, it's been a good year, and I'm thankful for (my notably good) health. I have an unexplained eye injury, but it is healing, very likely because of the high-end dog food I demand. People I meet on the street continue to call me a "sweet old dog". Young Eli refers to me as "Di-till"–I do not know what either of these words mean. I know only that I can run fast, and forgive even faster.

Merry Christmas! Happy Hanukkah! Happy New Year! And may Winter Solstice find you strong and with a warm fire anticipating the sun's return.

With love,
Kiwi (and Dad and Mom and Eli)

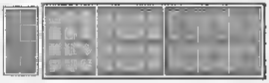
will reduce lost disk space due to slack, and will reduce defragmentation times on partitions containing many relatively-small data. [illegible] for much more on the issues involved in partitioning.) So instead, let's say you want to split up this drive as follows:

- One 8 GB primary partition for Windows and other operating system and program files.
- One 12 GB partition for data.
- One 16 GB partition for games.
- The rest of the disk in a 24 GB partition for large multimedia files, short-term backups and future expansion.

I'm assuming no complicating factors here, just a simple example. To do this, you will first set up a primary DOS partition 8 GB in size. This is the first of your four partitions. You will then create an extended DOS partition that is 52 GB in size. This is the second partition on the hard disk. Within the extended DOS partition you will create three logical volumes: one 12 GB, one 16 GB and one 24 GB. These are your second, third and fourth volumes (logical partitions). The first partition will be your C: drive, from which you boot the machine, and DOS will (normally) assign D:, E: and F: to the other three logical partitions. Your hard disk will have one primary DOS partition, and one extended DOS partition containing three logical DOS volumes.



Graphical depiction of the partitioning of a 60 GB hard disk as described in the example above. Each square represents 1 GB of space on the hard disk. The blue squares are the 8 GB primary partition, the green, red and purple squares are the 12 GB, 16 GB and 24 GB partitions respectively. The latter three partitions are logical partitions contained within an extended DOS partition, indicated by the larger gray-shaded rectangle.

Once the system is set up, there is no functional difference between these partitions other than the fact that C: is the only bootable one and is where all the DOS system files reside. Regular files can reside, wherever you want them to.

How Can I Test My Fax Machine?

Presumably, you want to test your fax machine by sending a fax from it and receiving a fax with it. Here's how to do both:

1-888-877-1657

To test the send functionality of your fax machine, send a one-page fax to ~~1-510-545-0990~~ (a number in Northern California.) When it's finished transmitting, point your web browser to Fax Toy — it's a fun web site that displays whatever is faxed to that number. Within a minute, your fax should appear on the site. Click the thumbnail to see a large version.

To test the receive functionality of your fax machine, point your web browser to FaxZero; this site lets you send faxes for free to anywhere in the United States and Canada. Within a few minutes, your fax machine should ring — hopefully, it will automatically answer and spit out the test fax.

سری دوم تمرین‌های طراحی الگوریتم‌ها

۱. فرض کنید یک درخت دودویی کامل با ارتفاع h و $n=2h$ گره برگ داریم. هر گره درخت نیز دارای یک مقدار می باشد. تعریف می‌کنیم:

- اگر گره x گره برگ باشد، $A(x)$ برابر است با مجموعه شامل x و تمام اجداد x تا ریشه درخت (تا ریشه درخت)
- اگر x و y دو گره برگ مجزا باشند، $A(x,y)$ برابر است با اجتماع $A(x)$ و $A(y)$ یعنی $A(x,y) = A(x) \cup A(y)$ و $F(x,y)$ را حاصل جمع عناصر $A(x,y)$ تعریف می‌کنیم

الف) الگوریتمی ارائه کنید (با استفاده از بسته کد یا توصیف فارسی) که برای یک درخت دودویی کامل، دو گره برگ x^,y^ را پیدا کند، طوریکه مقدار $F(x^, y^)$ ماکزیمم گردد و سپس مقدار $F(x^, y^)$ را بعنوان خروجی بازگرداند.

ب) مرتبه زمانی الگوریتم ارائه شده را تعیین کنید.

توجه: الگوریتم ارائه شده باید مبتنی بر روش تقسیم و حل باشد.

مثال برای درخت زیر گره های X^* و Y^* مشخص شده‌اند و خروجی الگوریتم برابر ۱۴۱ است. زیرا

$A(x^*) = \{ 19, 15, 21, 36 \}$
$A(y^*) = \{ 20, 30, 21, 36 \}$
$A(x^, y^) = \{ 19, 15, 21, 36, 20, 30 \}$
$F(x^, y^) = 19 + 15 + 21 - 36 - 20 + 30 = 141$

۲. (تحلیل الگوریتم مرتب‌سازی ادغامی) الگوریتمی بنویسید که برای مرتب کردن یک آرایه n عنصری، ابتدا آن را به ۲ قسمت با طول $n/3$ عنصر تقسیم کرده، سپس هر قسمت را به همین روش مرتب کرده و سپس ۲ نیمه مرتب شده را با هم ادغام کند. با تحلیل پیچیدگی زمانی الگوریتم، مرتبه زمانی آن را مشخص کنید.

Public Cloud Platforms: The Future of Enterprise Computing

There's no denying it: enterprise computing is moving to public cloud platforms. The benefits the cloud brings, including greater flexibility and lower costs, are becoming too obvious to resist. Starting now, every IT leader needs to think seriously about how they'll use cloud platforms.

But this is a big change. Relying on a cloud platform, such as Microsoft Azure, is different from what you're doing today. Making the transition will take time and thought. And the best place for you to begin isn't necessarily obvious. While you'll probably run mission-critical applications on a public cloud platform at some point, starting here isn't a realistic option for most organizations—it feels too risky. Yet there are other scenarios that can provide value immediately with manageable risk. You can start small, then expand when you're ready.

This overview describes how organizations can adopt Microsoft Azure. We'll look at the most common scenarios, starting with the simplest, and show the business value of each one. The goal is to help you think about which cloud scenarios might make sense for your organization today.

It's useful to group these scenarios into two broad categories:

1. Infrastructure scenarios that improve the operational aspects of running an IT organization. The usual goal here is to provide the most reliable service at the lowest cost.
2. New application scenarios that create custom software used by your employees or your customers. The overarching goal here is to create competitive advantage for your organization. You do this by developing and deploying new applications faster, exploiting technology innovation to differentiate your firm from your competitors, and in other ways.

As we'll see, a cloud platform can have value in both categories.

EAT MORE PIE

Pie is very good. It taste's good and it makes you feel good when you eat it. Some people say that it is fatening, but I say so what it tastes really good and you'll be dead someday anyway so why not eat some pie while you still can. Plus alot of pies have fruit in them like cherries or apples or goosebarries and fruit is good for you so how can pie not be at least kind of good for you?
